Flouridation Campaign Opened Here

A program to bring about fluoridation of water in the Menlo Park and Atherton area was undertaken this week by the Menlo-Atherton Junior Chamber of Commerce, which indicated it hopes to have the measure on a ballot in April, 1956.

Dr. Norman McFate, chairman of the Jaycee committee for the project, appeared before the Menlo Park city council Tuesday night to discuss ramifications of the problem, and abruptly encountered manifold complications.

Mayor Charles P. Burgess pointed out that the city has jurisdiction over only a portion of the water distributed within its boundaries, the greatest part of the area being served by the California Water Service company.

McFate declared he had been formed by the utility company that it would be glad to put flouridation into affect if the city voted for it. The question of who would be spokesman for "the city" in view of the overlapping of jurisdictions was raised by Councilman Arthur Cobbledick.

JOINT VOTE

Burgess said that it would certainly have to be a joint Menlo Park-Atherton vote on the California Water Service area, but that "we could probably ignore the unincorporated area."

McFate said it was the intention of the Jaycees to bring the matter before the town council of Atherton at the earliest opportunity.

Walter Miller, 1331 Sevier avenue, arose from the audience in opposition to the proposal. He stated that a similar question had raised the claim that there was no applicable voting unit to decide the matter. This case, he said, still is being heard before the Public Utilities Commission.

McFate declared he would look into the situation further and keep the council informed.

VERBAL SKIRMISH

Before the subject was abandoned at Tuesday's meeting, however, McFate and Miller engaged in a brief verbal skirmish over similarity or lack of similarity between fluoridation and chlorination of a water supply. McFate declared both were technical matters and that "misinformation" clouded public understanding.

Miller replied that the two were entirely different, in that chlorination was a matter of treating and purifying the water itself, while fluoridation was designed to bring about physiological affects in the bodies of those who drank the water.

McFate maintained the similarity of the two, saying, "there is no difference between treating microbes in the pipes or in the body."

AMBASSADOR VISITS MENLO PARK

SEVERAL HUNDRED members of Stanford Research Institute's staff here gathered Saturday, to hear U.S. ambassador to the United Nations Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. (right), describee some of the purposes which are being served by the International organization. Among those who greeted him were, at left, Dr. J. E. Hobson, director of the SRI; William Estler, director of public relations at SRI; Rogers Cannel, economist at the Institute. Ambassador Lodge's talk followed a tour of the facilities here.

Council Cuts Plaza Size In Split Vote

By a split vote of 3 to 2, Menlo Park's city council Tuesday night cut 25 feet off one end of the easterly parking plaza in the current project to provide additional offstreet parking areas on the southerly side of Santa Cruz avenue.

The action, taken with no protest from the floor in public hearing, increases the depth of two commercial properties facing Doyle street from the previously proposed 50 feet to 75 feet and reduces proportionately the parking area to be acquired by the city.

The same resolution also decreases the assessments to be paid by owners of the two lots that will lose half of their frontage on the new plaza as a result of the shift in lines. One of these lots faces on Santa Cruz avenue and is the site of Searles' Buffet, the other is in the similar location facing Menlo avenue.

OPPOSE CHANGE

Both councilmen who voted against the proposal, George S. Ford and William R. Lawson, based their position on the principle of opposing any change in the project as originally outlined by the council and agreed to by a majority of the businesmen and commercial property-owners who will be affected.

The three who supported the action, on the other hand, all pointed out that the two parcels facing Doyle street were the only ones in the entire project left with only 50-foot depth and that adjustment in this case was fair and reasonable.

Attorney Robert Dell'Ergo represented the owners of the two parcels who had protested that the 50-foot depth would leave them with unusable parcels.

CONDEMNATION SUIT READY FOR FILING

City Attorney James T. O'Keefe Jr. told the city council Tuesday night that condemnation proceedings will be filed late this week against 11 parcels of property in the area to be acquired for the new parking plaza project.

Owners of seven of the 18 parcels involved have accepted the city's offered purchase price. Of the 11 remaining, O'Keefe said two others almost certainly will agree in negotiations and he hopes that two others, as well, will settle the matter before the city's condemnation suit comes to trial.

TO REIGN

WARDENE MILLER

Atherton Girl Crowned Queen Of RC Rodeo

Wardene Miller, student at the Convent of the Sacred Heart here Saturday night was crowned Queen of the 16th annual Redwood City Fourth of July Rodeo and Celebration by Dottie Hansen, of KGO-TV, before an overflow crowd in the Redwood City American Legion hall.

Runners-up were Debby Wallace of Menlo-Atherton high school and Sandy Levy of Mercy high school in Burlingame.

Deputy Dave, who will televise the opening of the Redwood City Rodeo on Friday, July 1, at 5 p.m. direct from the Redwood City rodeo grounds, was also on hand at the ball to entertain the crowd.

Queen Wardene, a student at Convent of the Sacred Heart, was awarded a $500 scholarship from the Peninsula Celebration association; a $250 modeling course from the Clark Edwards salon in Redwood City, and a western outfit from Levi Strauss. The second and third place winners receive beauty courses from Clark Edwards and all 10 runners-up receive $50 savings bonds from the PCA.

The other girls who will reign over festivities in Redwood City July 1-4 include: Sandy Thomas of North Fair Oaks, representing Sequoia high school.

City Budget Preview Hints 7.3 Pct. Raise

A preliminary peek at the city's budget for the next fiscal year was given city councilmen Tuesday night, and Mayor Charles P. Burgess commented that it shows the "smallest percentage increase in the city's history."

The total figure of $519,206 anticipated by City Manager C. L. Longson is an increase of $35,541 over the 1954-55 budget of $483,665. This represents a boost of only 7.3 per cent.

Longson pointed out that, whereas salaries and operational expense items will be up an anticipated 14.1 and 3.6 per cent respectively, capital outlay and sums for the city's replacement fund are expected to drop 28.8 and 20 per cent each.

Offer Hints for a Happy Holiday

Police Issue Plea for Caution

Menlo Park and Atherton police Chiefs George Potter and Leroy Hubbard, noting that a three-day holiday is in the offing and surmising that a larger-than-ordinary number of residents were going to take to the road, this week joined in wishing all a safe and happy weekend.

And to this they added that it can be made safer and happier if motorists abide by the rules of the road, take their time, and give themselves plenty of relaxation so they won't be too fidgety or hasty on the final stages of weekend trips.

"We know this is the 'Independence day' weekend," observes Chief Potter, "But the highway is no place on which to assert oneself. When highways are more crowded than ever, courtesy and cooperation can do a lot to make any trip more pleasant."

Chief Hubbard, whose town is itself something of a sightseer's attraction which has only one major highway flowing through it, pointed out that the picturesque roads through the boskier dells of the town will be "covered," as usual, by police partols.

But with these words of "food for thought," they added their best wishes for a happy holiday.

Firemen Warn Of Blaze Peril

Menlo Park Fire District officers, noting the approach of the Fourth of July, this week issued their regular seasonal warning.

"All fireworks can be dangerous. Some types—the less dangerous ones—are available in some of the area's stores, however, though due caution must be observed in their use."

Persons not content with sparklers, small-size pinwheels, "fountains" and "cap pistols" are reminded that a more impressive display is on the agenda for 9:30 p.m. July 4, at the Redwood City Rodeo grounds. The show of the traditional earth-shaking type, will last for 45 minutes.

"Every year we have to put out several minor fires, caused by persons being careless with pyrotechnic items," observed Chief George Carter of the fire district. "Sometimes the fires are caused by illegal fireworks, but they can also be started by legal fireworks used without proper care."

For instance, he observed, sparkler are sometimes thrown into the air by the operator to create novel pyrotechnic effects. But they sometimes land on shingle roofs or in dry grass, and the firemen have to be called.

Safe places for the operation of these as well as "fountains" (these have several names) include the center of large lawns or private parking areas.

Some residents, he observed have combined resources in past years and several families have found it convenient to meet in one place; this simplifies the clean-up problem and provides a longer, more spectacular display.

Menlo Park and Atherton police are cooperating to keep the use of illegal fireworks at a minimum.

Illegal devices will be confiscated, said Chief Carter.

For Holiday:

STORES CLOSE

Most Menlo Park businesses will be closed Monday for the July 4 holiday, a spot check by the Recorder indicates.

The Recorder will be among businesses to be partially closed, however, its office will be open and special personnel will be on hand during the day to aid in the placing of classified advertising. Regular telephone number, DA 3-6118, will be in use.

Higher Rates Take Effect Here Friday

Starting tomorrow, all Menlo Park city employees will be earning 5 per cent more than they are today.

This is the effect of the salary schedule adopted by the city council Tuesday night for the new fiscal year, which begins July 1.

In addition to the flat over-all 5 per cent increase, the new pay schedule provides further increases in several city positions. These increases, it was pointed out by Councilman Vaile S. Andrus, bring the city's rates of pay into line with what is paid those in similar positions in other communities and are "on the low side."

The positions which received the additional increases are those of city manager, city attorney, chief of police, director of recreation, administrative assistant, police clerk, and engineering aide-draftsman.

More Depot Space Is Set Aside For Athertonians

Atherton residents may look forward next month to having some 50 additional reserved parking spaces near the Southern Pacific station as a result of an ordinance amendment adopted Monday night by Atherton town councilmen.

The additional spaces are to be provided by limiting a portion of the city parking lot now being used by the general public which lies between Ashfield road and Maple avenue. The area is to be paved, marked for parking, and restricted to vehicles bearing an official sticker given only to residents of Atherton.

Police Chief Leroy Hubbard, whose department issues such stickers, estimates that the new arrangement will reduce the present general city parking lot to about three-quarters its present size.

School Board To Reorganize

Menlo Park Elementary School District trustees this week formally set 7 p.m. tomorrow evening as time for their annual reorganization meeting. The gathering will convene at Central school.

An annual meeting of school district trustees must, according to law, be held on the first day of July. A board president and clerk must be elected at that time. Board president for the current year is Mrs. Phyllis Campbell.

Fourth in Past Few Months:

City Treasurer Mrs. Frances Maloney Joins List of City Employees Downed by Injuries

Fourth member of Menlo Park's city hall staff to be hospitalized in recent months was convalescing at her home today, recovering from minor injuries sustained in an auto accident Monday night.

Mrs. Francis Maloney, the city's treasurer since 1936, was reported convalescing at her home, 1108 Pine street. She was shaken up when a car in which she was riding with friends, collided at El Camino Real and Churchill avenue Monday night.

Members of her family said she was expected to return to work in less than a week.

In recent months casualties have been heavy at City hall:

City Manager C. L. Longson was several weeks recovering after being struck by a golf ball but returned to his office about three months ago; Mrs. Margaret Becker, city clerk, is still convalescing at her home, after being taken ill early this year; Mrs. Florence Surber, secretary to the city manager, returned to her office three weeks ago after an elbow broken in a recent fall was allowed to mend.

Insurance Firm Home Completed

Completion of Hardware Mutual Insurance company's Linfield Oaks office is expected by tomorrow, a spokesman for the builder of the $110,000 structure, fronting on Willow road, announced this week.

No plans for a formal opening, however, have yet been announced by Hardware Mutual, latest firm to join the growing number of executive offices in the nationally-famous professional-administrative zone.

Glen Thomas, superintendent of the building job for contractors Haas and Haynie, said yesterday that the local building, just west of the A. C. Nielsen company offices is being completed several weeks ahead of schedule.

After Hearing Protests:

School Administrators 'Re-Evaluate' Need for Cross-Town Transfers

Menlo Park School District administrators Monday night were directed to "re-evaluate" proposed changes in attendance areas of the district's several schools, with an eye to eliminating the need for transporting 80 children across El Camino Real for classes during the coming school year.

The administrators' new recommendations are to be made known at the July 11 meeting of the district's board of trustees. In asking District Curriculum Consultant Paul Stouffer and other members of the staff to re-survey the problem, trustees reaffirmed their stand that class size should not be increased as a means of overcoming a shortage of space.

About 40 parents were present Monday night to urge trustees to reconsider the district "attendance area" problem. Previously, district administrators had announced their intention to transport 80 children, of first through third grade age, from the Fremont school attendance area to emergency classrooms in Stanford Village.

That the problem was growing beyond that of the three classroomsful involved in the proposed trans-highway problem was evidenced, also, by petitions signed by parents whose children attended Hillview school during the past year, but who are scheduled to be sent to Fremont school next year.

Another petition, signed by parents residing along San Mateo drive between Middle avenue and San Francisquito creek, objected to transfer of children from the Ook Knoll attendance area to Fremont.

Discussion opened with Homer Alderman, principal of Fremont school and district transportation "arranger," pointing out that trans-El Camino bus runs, involving whole classes, have been common in the district for the past several years. Younger as well as older children have been involved, he said.

DOUBLE SESSIONS

Speaking from the audience, Robert Oakford, 10 Maywood lane, pointed out that many parents had indicated they preferred giving up special purpose rooms at Hillview school to having their children sent across the highway for classes.

He said he did not feel the question of "double sessions" should be raised in connection with the problem.

Trustee John Davenport observed that the district was not holding the threat of double sessions "as a club."

All trustees concurred that small class size was a governing principal in their thinking and argued that split sessions would be resorted to rather than increased class size.

"Small classes," observed trustee James Black, "are a basic policy of the district. So double sessions are a possibility if classes are to be kept small."

FEARS CROSSING

William Fleming, a resident of the Fremont area, argued that the younger children might tend to stay later at the Village school, attempting to get across the railroad tracks and El Camino by themselves later, "if the school was in sight of their homes."

Children from the Hillview school area would not be faced with this temptation, he said.

In answer to a question from Clarence Cardoza, district trustees emphasized that changes in attendance areas of any particular school cannot be permanent. Area growth patterns are such that a "frozen" attendance area might leave one school crowded, while another a mile away might be relatively empty.

Howard Burnside, from the audience, observed that "the ebb and flow of population should be considered in basic policy."

GETTING WORSE

King Howard, 263 University drive, pointed out that in his view the traffic problem of El Camino was a growing one, getting more severe as the years go by.

A Linfield Oaks resident, unidentified, asked if it would be possible to keep first through third graders in a "permanent" school east of the highway. Stouffer observed that this would merely "push the problem around" to other classes.

Emmett Cameron, 1180 Hermosa way pointed out that all "substandard" rooms west of the highway were in use last year, and added that he felt parents preferred they be used again this year as an alternative to having children transported back and forth across the highway.

A parent of a Hillview school seventh grader observed, however, that it was hoped special purpose rooms could remain in use at that school.

Howard returned to the discussion to observe that "he didn't think the board should be bridled too close."

Stouffer then asked for directions as to "what should be given up first."

CLASS SIZE FIRST

He was told that class size should remain the important consideration; elimination of need for crossing the highway another, and the possible partition of the Hillview school music room should be studied.

The problem of how to locate the various classes in the district came to the fore last month, when it was pointed out that there are 80 more children west of the highway than space will permit.

There will, however, be three classrooms available for them at the emergency school in Stanford Village.

There are no other regular classrooms available in the district.

Center Designer To Be Chosen

Recommendations for the naming of an architect to design Menlo Park's proposed civic and community center will be presented at the next regular meeting of the city council, July 12, City Manager C. L. Longson informed councilmen this week.

Longson said he had interviewed three architects regarding the planning and would recommend the hiring of one of them at that time.

In accord with recent recommendations of the planning commission, the man hired would be charged with preparing a master land-use plan for the city-owned 26 acres now comprising the civic center and Burgess recreation areas. He would also design buildings in such fashion that the whole undertaking could be carried out piecemeal, each unit fitting into a suitable uniform pattern.

Menlo Oaks School Nears Completion

William Daseking, member of the architectural firm of Janssen, Daseking and Keller of Menlo Park, Monday night told board members of the Ravenswood Elementary School district that wing two of Menlo Oaks school should be completed by the end of July, two months ahead of schedule. He reported that wing one was completed at a savings of $31.93 less than contract.

Superintendent Stanley O. Schnepple announced that the district was in receipt of a federal treasury check for $32,400, final payment on the $108,000 grant from the government to construct Menlo Oaks wing one under the Federal Subvention program.

"It has been a pleasure dealing with the government," he said.

HARVARD-CORNELL CLASH HERE

Sports enthusiasts, a couple of weeks ago, were referring to the "Harvard-Cornell competition" as something related to the Poughkeepsie regatta. But Menlo Park police, referring to a "Harvard-Cornell imbroglio," put it down as just another accident.

That's because two autos got to the Harvard avenue-Cornell road intersection at the same time. No winners were declared.

One of the cars was driven by Anne Carolyn Constant, 20, of San Gabriel. She was headed north on Cornell. The second auto was operated east on Harvard, by Daisy Maree Simmonds, 45, of 950 Alice lane.

Both cars were damaged sufficiently to require towing from the scene but neither driver was injured.

The officers are currently investigating the possibility that one of the cars might have been traveling faster than the 15 miles per hour allowed for intersections.

Menlo Park Firemen 'Cover In' as Redwood City Fights Blaze

Honoring its standing mutual aid agreement with other fire-fighting agencies in the vicinity, Menlo Park Fire District last Thursday afternoon sent an engine company to "cover in" in down town Redwood City as engines from that town were occupied with a $2,000,000 blaze at that city's harbor.

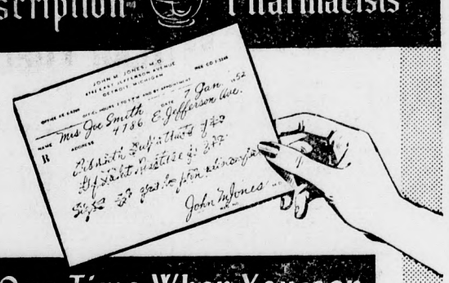

The Menlo Park district "rig," a combination pumping engine, was sent from Station 4, Alameda de las Pulgas and Valparaiso avenue, to Redwood City's headquarters station.

The engine and crew remained in the county seat city for one hour and 32 minutes.

Virtually all of Redwood City's firefighting strength was concentrated at the fire; engines from outlying areas are normally called in in such cases.

Agreements are multi-lateral between fire districts in this area, and should a major blaze occur in Menlo Park, no difficulty would be encountered in getting outside aid, according to District Chief George B. Carter.

No Free Site For Library Open to City

The city council of Menlo Park this week received official notice that there will be no "free" library site available in the Stanford Village area.

A letter from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare acknowledged receipt of the city's application for the parcel of land lying between the police department and Ravenswood avenue, but explained that the property was not available.

The entire area is contained in the sale to Stanford university of the Stanford Village property.

At the same time, the council directed City Attorney James T. O'Keefe Jr., to study the affect of a resolution passed by the trustees of the university setting forth the agreement with the city as to terms of disposal of the area when Stanford no longer needs it for student housing.

RECAPITULATES

The understanding had previously been outlined by university Business Manager Alf Brandin. Brandin had stated that property would be offerede first to Stanford Research Institute, second to any public or non-profit organization approved by the city, and third to the city itself, the price to be Stanford's cost in acquiring the land from the government, about $16,000 per acre.

To this arrangement, the university trustees added: "Providing the city has not zoned the area to a more restrictive zoning classification."

Mayor Charles P. Burgess expressed puzzlement over the exact meaning of "more restrictive" in the proviso. O'Keefe declared he would question the statement "because it restricts the zoning power of the city."

Menlo Park Woman Gets Scholarship

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Miss Hatsue Helen Aoyagi of Menlo Park, has been awarded one of ten scholarships from the Japan Society of New York to attend the Summer Institute on Japan to be held at Syarcue university's summer session, July 5-August 12.

The scholarship entitles Miss Aoyagi to six credit hours of work at the Institute where teachers, business men and government personnel explore the many facets of Japanese culture.

A graduate of San Francisco State college, Miss Aoyagi received her M.A. from Stanford university and is now working for her Ph.D in Asiatic studies at that university.

The Institute on Japan was organized last year and is supported by the Japan Society, which is dedicated to furthering understanding between Japanese and American peoples.

William Tyler, Leslie Nichols Reappointed To Atherton Planning Board for 4 Years

Re-appointment of two Atherton planning commission members became effective Monday night when Mayor Harry A. Mitchell, with the approval of the city council, named incumbents William B. Tyler and Leslie I. Nichols to serve another four years on the board.

Six subdivision maps also were submitted to the council, and gained either final or tentative approvals. Final approval was given to maps of Polhemus Acres for a three-lot subdivision of the Singhoff property at Euclid and Stockbridge avenues, as well as to the final Quillota map 2.

Four tentative subdivision maps, recommended by the planning commission each received approval by the council. They were:

1. A four lot subdivision map of Selby Pines at 78 Selby lane, formerly the Stettheimer property;
2. A four lot subdivision of the Quillota property at the corner of Santiago and Valparaiso avenues;
3. A two lot subdivision of two acres of the E. P. Abbe property at 36 Fairview avenue;
4. And a four lot subdivision by Arthur D. Janssen, Jr., at 201 Atherton avenue.

OKAY FOR "FOURTH"

In Oother actions Monday night the councilmen gave consent to a Menlo Circus club request to conduct supervised fireworks display on the Fourth of July.

The reappointment of Planning Commissioners Nichols and Tyler came as no surprise to councilmen, for both men have served many years as planners and were, in fact, both members of the board when the town's second zoning ordinance amendments were passed which largely directed the development of the town.

Both Nichols, who resides at 369 Atherton avenue, and Tyler, whose home is at 164 Isabella avenue, are to begin their four-year term of office on July 1.

190 M-A Grads Plan on College

A total of 190 of Menlo-Atherton high school's 308 graduates of 1955—about 60 per cent—have indicated that they intend to continue their education in universities and colleges, a recent survey by Principal Nicholas Nugent has indicated.

In addition to those who have called on the high school registrar to send transcripts to other schools, he added, many others are probably intending to continue training in some specialized fields where no transcripts are required.

The 60 per cent figure is well above the national average, Nugent observed, and it might be raised during the summer, as more high school graduates call for transcripts.

Impending service with the armed forces does not appear to have influenced the intentions of graduates, he added, although whether or not those going into the army or navy will take specialized training is not known.

Menlo Park Rotary club's Program Chairman Jack Robertson presented his final program before leaving office yesterday, but didn't reveal in advance what the nature of the weekly talk would be.

Meanwhile, Rotarians were getting ready to attend the local club's annnal installation dinner, to be held next week at Adobe Creek lodge.

Last Thursday about 35 members attended a barbecue at the Warren Slack residence.

Mrs. Yeager Leaves Library Board

The board of library trustees of the city of Menlo Park this week faced a further loss from its already thinning ranks, when Mayor Charles P. Burgess received from Mrs. Herman V. Yeager, last week re-appointed to the board, a letter declaring she will be leaving the city the middle of August.

"I would like nothing better than to accept," Mrs. Yeager wrote regarding her appointment to a new term.

The five-member library board recently lost its chairman Jack Peak, when he was transferred to a three-year assignment in Pakistan. Another member of the board, Dr. S. W. Chan, whose term expired recently, has indicated he does not wish to accept re-appointment.

Mayor Burgess Tuesday night expressed to the council the hope that Mrs. Yeager would agree to serve on the board until she leaves the community to give him time to find replacements for the other two vacancies.

School District Board Awards Paving Job Even Though Cost Is Above Estimates

Menlo Park Elementary School District trustees, recognizing that costs will go about $2000 above estimates, this week voted to go ahead with paving of parking and play areas at Hillview school anyhow.

Work is to start immediately.

Bahr and Ledoyen was named low bidder for the job which, trimmed somewhat but including all paving necessary to allow eventual full development of Hillview's playground, will cost an estimated $17,491. The school district had originally hoped to get the job done for about $15,000.

Awarding of the bid followed reading of a letter from A. H. Glantz, representing the county superintendent of schools. Glantz observed that most contractors are "bidding high" to protect themselves while several building trades unions are contemplating requests for another round of wage increases.

However, his letter continued, there is no indication that building or paving costs will go down in the future.

Among items trimmed will be paving of a strip along the north side of the school which will save an estimated $1083, according to school district business manager John Richert.

Other minor items will also be trimmed, to keep the total cost low.

As finally chopped, the bid of Bahr and Ledoyen was less than $10 over that of Oscar Holmes of Redwood City. There were originally four bidders for the total job.

In awarding the contract, trustees pointed out that work at this time will help save existing paving in play and parking areas, forestalling the need for letting a larger contract in the future.

Trustee John C. Davenport voted against the awarding of the bid on the basis that, "I don't see how we can spend more money than originally allocated, when the picture is so uncertain . . . after all, we don't even know, at the present time, how much the addition at Oa kKnoll school will cost."

Girl, 7, Hurt In Auto Crash

A seven-year-old girl was taken to Palo Alto hospital Monday morning for treatment of contusions about the head, after an auto operated by her mother was involved in a "rear end" accident on El Camino Real.

The girls was Roberta Stephens, a passenger in an auto driven by Mrs. Doris A. Stephens, 33, of 254 Leland avenue. According to police the auto in which the girl was riding was struck in the rear by one operated by Lawrence P. Viscara, 58, of Burlingame.

Both cars were southbound on the highway, at Middle avenue, when the 11:10 a.m. accident occurred.

Rahe Installed Optimist Prexy

Robert G. Rahe was installed as president of the Palo Alto-Menlo Park Optimist club, at the group's regular breakfast meeting last week at the Marie Antoinette.

Rahe, who is co-operator of Cook's Sea Food restaurant in Menlo Park, heads a slate of officers which include Kenneth L. Jones, first vice president; Robert C. Swartz, second vice president; T. R. Felt, third vice president; Bruce Fielding, treasurer and Asa J. Dobbins, secretary.

Felton Area Paving Deferred for Year

Felton Gables probably won't get its street paving and storm drainage project until next spring, City Engineer Edwin H. Smith told the city council Tuesday night.

Smith said that completion of the project before the fall rains would be unlikely if it were to be begun this summer. He suggested that the assessment proceedings be carried forward to the point where the city has jurisdiction, but that actual work be delayed until after the winter.

A petition signed by better than 60 per cent of the property owners in the district was presented to the council at its last meeting asking that the project be undertaken. At that time, however, officers of Felton Gables, Inc., area residents association, indicated they would be reluctant to see the job begun if completion this summer were unlikely.

County Transfers Funds of Schools

Menlo Park School District trustees this week passed a resolution allowing the county treasurer to make necessary transfers of funds in the district's budget, to "bring it out even" at the end of the year.

The resolution was passed on the recommendation of district Business Manager John Richert. The county will provide a complete record of all transfers made, Richert said.

Among other transfers to be allowed will be a transfer of $35,000 from the title "Bond building—land" to the title "Bond building—buildings," a step necessary to explain financing of the recent rebuilding of the central portion of Fremont school.

Most of the other transfers are merely technical in aspect.

As We See It:

GOOD ECONOMY

The city of Menlo Park deals primarily in services, service to its 23,811 residents (by the latest count). When you are buying service, you almost always get exactly what you pay for, and we are glad that Menlo Park pays enough.

Our community in recent years has been extremely fortunate in the caliber of its public servants. We want the best throughout the ranks, and we have the best. To maintain the high standard, every employee – city manager, police officer, street maintenance man, or swimming instructor – must be paid enough.

This always has been sound theory. This week we had a demonstration of the truth of it in cold figures..

The city council authorized a 5 per cent pay increase for all city employees for the fiscal year that starts tomorrow, with additional increases in a number of categories. Immediately following this action, councilmen were given a preliminary peek at the coming year's budget. Wages and salaries, according to the budget, will be up a total of 14.1 per cent, yet the overall budget increase is expected to be only 7.3 per cent.

This, commented Mayor Burgess, is the smallest percentage increase in the city's history, and in a growing area such as this it is gratifyingly small.

Here we have proof that, by paying for loyal and efficient service, we are getting the type of public servant who can hold down the other costs of government. By paying more in the right place, we spend less overall.

The Old Way Is Out

In the history of American politics and in the development of many a modern city there have been periods when it was accepted practice to underpay public servants. This was considered "economy."

During such eras, good men naturally stayed out of public positions; they could do much better elsewhere. Thus the men who took the jobs were not "the best," and the corollary fact that they used their public posts as a means of lining their own pockets "on the side" was openly winked at. It is from such eras as this that the popular misconception has arisen, the idea that there is necessarily graft where the public's money is concerned.

Menlo Park – and hundreds of other honest, well-run communities throughout the nation – have disproved the old idea. There is a growing realization that true governmental economy begins with paying enough for service to make it worth the while of honest, intelligent men.

Such men pay their way, not only through efficient budgetary operation of the government, but through the elimination of thousands of dollars in "gratuities" and out-and-out graft that the public used to pay outside of published budgets.

The pay boost for Menlo Park's public servants is well deserved, and with it we should convey to every one of them our thanks for a municipality of which we can be proud.

WELCOME

With completion – ahead of schedule – of the new home of the Hardware Mutual Insurance company in Linfield Oaks, we look forward to welcoming to our city another of the firms of which we are so proud.

The success of the professional-administrative zoning pioneered here has, of recent weeks, been noted nationwide in syndicated news service stories and has brought queries from many another community as to how it was accomplished.

These firms are Menlo Park's "industry." Yet they fit easily into – and even enhance – the residential character of our community.

Hardware Mutual is another welcome "resident."

A BANG-UP TIME!

Have a "bang-up" good time this Fourth of July weekend! But make it the right kind of "bang-up!"

Enjoy yourself, but please don't be a statistic

Over the three days, lots of folks will be driving off for a happy trip. And lots of them won't drive home again at all. Take it easy, please, and play it safe.

As one suggestion for playing it safe, here is the fourth in our series of drivers we hope you do not resemble, presented in cooperation with safety organizations, law enforcement officials and the Menlo Park District Association of Insurance Agents.

Don't be a . . .

Joe Show-Off

JOE SHOW-OFF is one of the most common causes of highway accidents. On quiet streets where there is little traffic he can be the soul of caution. But give him a busy boulevard "audience" and he becomes a daredevil.

He cuts in too soon after passing another car, honks his horn frantically when irked by other drivers, is in seventh heaven when he can steal the right-of-way and feels a deep compulsion to get ahead of everyone else.

He is too weak to hoist a barbell at the beach, so he gets his kicks pushing the accelerator. All he needs is an audience, a high-powered car, and eventually, a basket.

Unity Affects Taxes

By MAYOR CHAS. P. BURGESS

Last week we noted that the preliminary studies of the staff of the County Committee on School District Organization on the proposal for a Menlo-Atherton Unified School District indicated a 195-55 assessed valuation per unit of average daily attendance in elementary schools of $8,740 if East Palo Alto is included in the district, and $9,873 if it stays out.

The average for the present Sequoia Union High School District is $8730, or about the same as the lower figure above.

As school costs for current operation should be closely related to school attendance, the tax rate of the new district be about the same for high school purposes with East Palo Alto included, and about 11 per cent lower if East Palo Alto were to remain in the Sequoia District.

Computing elementary school costs is somewhat more difficult because it involves the matter of equalization aid, over and above the basic state aid of $120 per student in average daily attendance.

Las Lomitas School District now has an assessed valuation per student in average daily attendance of $11,069. The new district including East Palo Alto would be 21 per cent lower, and without East Palo Alto 11 per cent lower.

Menlo Park School District now has an assessed valuation per student in average daily attendance of $12,550. The loss here would be 30 per cent with and 21 per cent without East Palo Alto in the new district.

Ravenswood School District has an assessed valuation per unit of average daily attendance of $5105. The gain would be 93 per cent for that part in the city limits of Menlo Park if East Palo Alto were not to come aleng, and 71 per cent for the entire district if East Palo Alto were included.

Redwood City School District has an assessed valuation per average daily attendance of $8419. The gain for that portion of Atherton in this school district, which under the proposal would come into the new district, would be 4 per cent with and 17 per cent without East Palo Alto.

East Palo Alto itself, if it came into the new district, would gain 71 per cent over the existing Ravenswood figure of $5105. However, even if it stayed out it would gain 12 per cent to $5715 because due to some industrial and commercial development, East Palo Alto has a higher ratio of assessed valuation to school attendance than does that part of Ravenswood School District in the City of Menlo Park.

A loser in this proposal would be Redwood City School District. Its assessed valuation per student in average daily attendance would drop from $8419 to $7975, or by 5 per cent, as a result of losing that piece in the city limits of Atherton to the new district.

Next week we shall analyze the net effect of these changes after equalization aid.

Peninsula 8th Grade Pupils Get Auto

When Peninsula school eighth graders return to classes in the fall, one of the informal projects they'll have to work on will be the reconstruction of an automobile. A similar undertaking this year received a serious setback when essential parts turned up missing.

According to school officials the youngsters spent the early months of last school year trying to get a 1940 Buick into running condition. The boys got it running, but in a few days essential parts turned up missing; having no money with which to replace these, the lads started building a wire enclosure for their auto work.

Recently an alumni of the school, residing in Palo Alto, donated a model A Ford for the lads to work on.

INTRODUCING . . .

Editor, the Recorder:

This letter is written to you with a definite purpose and objective in mind. We would like to introduce to you our new committee, the North Fair Oaks Safety Committee for School Crossing. Mr. Andrew Brown is Chairman.

The supporters of the committee include, Garfield Elementary School P.T.A., Sequoia Chapter of the American Red Cross, South Redwood City Lions club, Community Church, Third and Middlefield road, St. Anthony's church, Dumbarton Oaks Improvement club.

The purpose: the objective of the committee is to take corrective steps in replacing the existing hazardous signal lights at Eighth and Middlefield road as soon as feasible.

There are approximately 750 students attending the Garfield school. Of that number 80 per cent use this dangerous crossing coming to and returning from school.

Recently a new supermarket opened in this area, and there is further construction at this very same corner, adding to the danger for children and adults alike, both walking and driving.

We would appreciate this problem being brought to the attention of the subscribers of your paper, with the hope that they will be more cautious at this crossing, and will lend us their support if needed.

Mrs. Emily A. Dickman

The Recorder always welcomes letters from its readers on any subject of public interest. Within the limitations of available space, all such letters will be published as received so long as they do not violate decency and good taste and provided they are signed.

Cancer Fund Drive Workers Over Quota

All south county areas participating in the San Mateo county chapter, American Cancer society fund drive for the current year have exceeded their quotas, it was announced this week by Mrs. Albert Hedge, 281 Arlington way, commander for the drive.

The drive was formally held in April but, Mrs. Hedge observed, contributions have been coming in since then from throughout the county so that although the county's quota was $55,400, a total of $67,000 has been collected thus far.

In Menlo Park, where the drive is chairmanned by Mrs. Edward Doherty, a total of $5100 has been collected. Quota for the city was $4500.

Mrs. Conrad Lazzareschi, drive chairman in Atherton, reported more than $9000 collected. Quota for the town was $6000.

The Woodside area, in which the drive was chairmanned by Mrs. H. R. Marthens, reported $7000 in hand; quota was $5000.

Police Get More Safety Honors

New honors were this week visited on the Menlo Park police department, in the form of a letter to Mayor Charles P. Burgess from the American Automobile association.

"We are pleased to advise that in the annual AAA traffic-pedestrian protection contest, the City of Menlo Park received a commendation citation for not having a single pedestrian fatality during the year 1954," the letter said.

"An award is being made up, evidencing this achievement, and will be presented to the city," the letter continued.

The city was rated as the "safest" in California, recently, of cities from 20,000 to 50,000 by the National Safety council.

The AAA's letter was signed by J. C. Spenser, manager of the public safety department of the association.

Another traffic safety award for Menlo Park is forthcoming, this time from the California State Automobile association, according to Police Chief George Potter who was recently informed that such an award is in the offing.

The presentation will closely follow the recently bestowed safety award made to Menlo Park by the California Safety Council —which was won by the city for the second consecutive year for having had no traffic fatalities.

Ramor Oaks Under New Ownership

Ramor Oaks, Atherton restaurant, has been reported sold by Madame Gladys Savary and her niece, Marian M. Gable. New owners are Carl J. Spann of San Mateo, John P. Cheney of Menlo Park and Eugene M. Stashuk of San Francisco.

Madame Savary and her niece have operated the restaurant for the past five years. Prior to that time, they operated a restaurant in Manila.

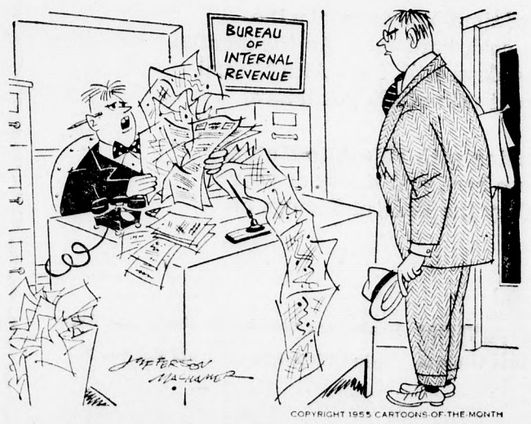

During World War II, not interned because of French neutrality, Madame Savary was able to aid in providing food for Americans interned at Santo Tomas, although she herself was not interned. She has described her experiences in a book, "Outside the Walls," which tells of her experiences in Manila at that time.

Sale of the restaurant was handled by Andy Leavitt of the Lanser-Nelson company and Mrs. Frances Howay of the Howay agencies.

DEFENDS CATCH

Walter the weathermouse was dragging what was, for him, a VERY large fish.

"Ah!" we exclaimed. "Another worm-washer! A disciple of Izaak Walton!"

"Want your picture taken, like the tarpon catchers of the Florida Keys? What kind of a fish is that, anyhow? Smelt?"

Walter looked offended.

"'Tisn't either," he said. "It's to be eaten."

Menlo Park Profs Get Special Funds

Two Stanford university professors, both residents of Menlo Park, have been named to conduct study projects under arrangements of special grants. They are, Professors John C. Loftis of 7 Arastradero drive, and Cornelius P. Cotter of 207-2 Stanford Village.

Professor Loftis, of the English department, will be on leave from Stanford during the 1955-56 academic year to conduct studies in the history of Spanish literature and drama at the University of California at Berkeley. He will be working under a faculty fellowship furnished by the Fund for the Advancement of Education.

Professor Cotter, of the department of political science, is engaged at Stanford in a study of the powers of the U. S. president, the study of which is being financed by the Fund for the Republic.

Woodside Youth On Canada Trek

Peter Franck, 18-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Franck of Woodside, has arrived in Montreal with three travelling companions on the first leg of a projected canoe and pack trip through the wilds of northern Canada.

The journey, expected to take about three months, will take Franck over the route taken in 1892 by Dr. J. B. Tyrell, a Canadian government surveyor, over the northern tundras.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DELEGATES TO MEETING

Fred Sammis, secretary-manager of the Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce and George Cleese Jr., its president, recently attended a meeting of the executive committee of the San Mateo county development association, in San Mateo.

President Frank M. Barrett outlined the association's aims and future plans.

Olive Street End May Be Abandoned

The city council Tuesday night set 8 p.m. August 9 as time and date for public hearing on a proposal to abandon a portion of Olive street running between Bay Laurel drive and San Francisquito creek.

A petition, signed by a number of property-owners in the vicinity, requested the city action on the grounds that the so-called street, in reality an undeveloped "dead-end," is "unnecessary for present or prospective street purposes" and that it is injurious to property values in the area. Frequent rumors that a bridge was to be put in across the creek at this point have worried Olive street residents that they might in the future find themselves facing a heavily travelled thoroughfare.

Mayor Charles P. Burgess declared his only reservation in the matter was that the city would be "giving away something that it now has."

It was suggested that the planning commission consider the proposal, and the August hearing date was set to give that body time to review it beforehand.

C. W. Williams Aids New Office Opening

Holly Sugar corporation's new Pacific Coast headquarters, on the Peninsula, were dedicated last Friday, June 24. The company's new $300,000 home was the occasion for an open house for several hundred Peninsula civic leaders and business executives.

C. W. Williams, 1125 Elder street, Menlo Park, who heads sales for Holly was host to the firms purchasing Holly sugar in the bay area at an open house Friday evening. Williams stated, "The opening of the new Holly office at 220 West 20th avenue, San Mateo, represents a great stride forward in the company's growth, and is a fitting celebration for a banner 50th anniversary year."

Williams, who has lived in Menlo Park since 1947, made it clear that the decision to establish the Western headquarters in Northern California was because the Peninsula area has become famous for its vigor and enterprise.

Battery D Members Eat with the Best

Menlo Park's Battery D, 149th AA artillery battalion, was this week sharing honors with other battalion elements for the "best mess" being served at the current encampment of the National Guard 149th division at Camp Roberts.

The 149th AA battalion, which has units in several San Mateo county cities, is currently in summer training at the mid-state base. Members are to return to their homes this coming weekend.

Sergeant Harry Carskadon is mess steward for the local battery. In previous years, most elements of the battalion cooked in their own field kitchens; the combined mess is a new departure in the training procedure.

Battery D normally headquarters at Burgess park gym and weekly drills, open to the public, are normally held Monday evenings.

The San Mateo county battalions initials stand for: "149th anti aircraft artillery, automatic weapons battalion, self propelled."

Kuchel Announces Academy Vacancies

The civil service examinations, on which Senator Kuchel bases his nominations, will be held in several California cities and towns July 11. Youths desiring to take the test should communicate with the Senator's office without delay so that necessary forms can be sent them on which to gain entrance to the examinations.

The Senator's allotment of nominations comprises two to the military academy at West Point, one to the naval academy at Annapolis, and 10 to the air force academy in Colorado.

Drowning Takes Oakdale Man's Life in Pool Here

Third fatal private swimming pool accident to occur in the Menlo Park-Atherton area in the past month resulted with the death of Donald Shipman, 23, of Oakdale, who died from drowning Monday. Scene of the tragedy was the pool of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Gray of 330 Olive street, brother-in-law and sister of his fiancee, Miss Lee Collins of 250 Brentwood drive, San Mateo.

The accident occurred on Shipman's 23rd birthday while he and Miss Collins were swimming alone only hours before a birthday celebration planned by her parents in San Mateo.

The couple, both graduated from the University of California at Santa Barbara this month, had planned to announce their engagement officially within two weeks.

Shipman, considered a good swimmer, was first noticed to be in trouble. Miss Collins said, when he began rising and sinking in the water and finally sank to the bottom of the pool.

She was able to bring him to the surface and call Menlo Park District firemen who dispatched squad trucks from stations 4 and 6 and attempted for 45 minutes to revive him.

TELLS CAUSE

A post mortem examination by County Coroner Paul Jensen Tuesday revealed that the drowning resulted from "aspiration of stomach contents in the trachea" after swallowing a sizeable amount of water. Although the victim had not eaten for several hours prior to swimming.

"Even the best of swimmers can develop such difficulty by accidentally swallowing too much water," Jensen said. Previously it had been assumed that the young man had been disabled by a heart attack.

Shipman had been a member of Lamda Chi Alpha fraternity at the university, where he and Miss Collins had first met. She is a member of Delta Gamma Delta sorority.

Johnston and Tinney Colonial chapel in Menlo Park is in charge of local arrangements. It is expected that the remains will be sent to Oakdale for funeral service and interment.

Two other drownings have occurred in the Menlo Park fire district within the last month, both of them in private swimming pools'

Menlo Leaders On Staff At Sierra Camp

Several Menlo Park and Atherton residents have been listed as members of the staff of the Sequoia YMCA's high Sierra camp, which will hold separate sessions for both boys and girls this summer.

The camp is situated at the Dardanelles, Stanislaus county. The camp session for boys will be from Aug. 8 through Aug. 20 and the girls' session will be from Aug. 20 to Aug. 27.

The camp is situated in primitive wildlife area; daily activities consist of hiking, swimming, crafts, fishing, sports riflery, archery and overnight pack trips. The camps will be for boys and girls between 10 and 15 years of age.

A special feature of the girls camp is the informal relaxed schedule of activities. After the first day, the girls may choose to stay in any activities they desire or they may go swimming or fishing, as long as they are supervised by their leaders. Counselors for this girls camp are:

School nurse, Mrs. Grace Tillman, Belmont; Camp director, Mrs. Edward H. Rose of Menlo Park; Assistant camp directors, Mrs. T. Victor Roblet of Atherton and ten college girls as cabin leaders. Cecilie Scotford of this city is also on the administrative staff.

HEADS STAFF

The staff of the boys high mountain camp is made up of O. H. Olsen, program director; Wayne Schwarz, assistant program directors; section leaders, John Pantages and Don Anderson. Activity people are: Tom Edwards, riflery; Pete Kuehl, archery; swimming instruction, Ed Kawada; camp craft, Vernon Nellis; office staff, Jerry Eppler; Campfire, Dick Aced, and 12 high school seniors as counselors. Loren Rehbeck and Jock Lundgren are localites among the latter.

In addition to these resident camps, the YMCA maintains a day camping program. This day camp continues all summer long, the boys are taken in buses from the YMCA every morning and returned at 4:30 every evening. The day camp program has all the characteristics and activities of resident camping except that the camper returns home each day.

One night is spent sleeping under the stars so that a boy can get the feel of real outdoor pioneer camping. The Sequoia YMCA is the only agency in San Mateo county that has a day camp for boys only. Day camp is held on Kings mountain which is a part of Huddart park.

Camp staff is made up of 20 high school seniors, four college section leaders under the direction of a qualified YMCA secretary.

Any boy or girl may attend YMCA camps whether they are members or not.

'Vegas Preps? -- 'A Myth' Says Menlo's Bo Molenda

Although recently published reports that two sensational prep gridders from Las Vegas, Nev., were planning to enroll at Menlo College this year appear nothing more than a beautiful dream Menlo football coach Bo Molenda is still optimistic to the point of expecting a successful championship defense in the tough Coast Conference.

Reports filtered out of Vegas by way of John Cahlan of the Review-Journal there a few weeks ago, that Overton Curtis, 190-pound negro halfback, and Robin Hill, a fullback, were both entering Menlo College in the fall.

Up to Tuesday of this week, however, no transcripts, applications or word in any form had been received from the boys and Molenda admitted that he frankly doubted that the boys were coming.

Cahlan, in a report to the San Francisco Examiner, had claimed that 'If Menlo has anything at all in front of Curtis and Hill, it will be in the Junior Rose Bowl in Pasadena."

Molenda promises that Menlo will have "plenty" in front of whoever runs in its backfield. All seven men in the Oaks' starting line of 1954 will be back this season. That team won the conference championship and posted a 7-1 season record.

And the backfield looks pretty strong, too, even without the Las Vegas stars. Troy Ratliff, all-Northern California fullback from Menlo-Atherton high school, is definitely headed for the Menlo campus as is Palo Alto high school' John Tynan, second leadin ground gainer in the Peninsul Athletic league last season.

Molenda is looking for big things from Ratliff and Tynan, and in fact, from the whole ballclub Although he says there are "no weak teams and the conference is much stronger this year," he is expecting the most trouble from San Jose JC, Monterey, and Hartnell.

But, in reference to the championship race, Molenda admits "I'm optimistic. I think we'll be right in there for it."

LITTLE THINGS

Walt Gamage, Sports Editor of the Palo Alto Times, nominates Carl (Bobo) Olson's classic remark after his recent kayo loss to Archie Moore, for the "understatement of the year." Olson, stepping off an airplane in San Francisco quipped to reporters: "Man, that Moore sure hits hard" . . . The board of directors of the Ravenswood Little League is trying a new twist. They have ruled that all boys on all teams must play in all games, according to League president Jack Denton. Seems like it might remove some of the spirit of competition which the boys enjoy so much, but we'll see . . . San Jose State's 1955 football roster lists only two Midpeninsulans on its roster, both from Palo Alto. One of them is Jack Butler, fullback for Menlo College last year, the other Dick O'Connor . . . Tackle Chris Marshall and end John Stewart of Palo Alto are the only boys from this area listed on Stanford's football roster for next fall.

FOR THE BOYS

A program as wide and as wonderful as the Babe Ruth League cannot, of course, survive without a lot of financial help. Providing good officials, equipment, uniforms and playing areas for the boys is an expensive proposition, but pays for itself many times over in the values eventually derived from giving the boys such a program.

Four teams in Menlo Park — Lowe Realtors, Menlo Blues, Menlo Greys, and Menlo Motors afford the opportunity for 60 local boys to play Babe Ruth League baseball every year. Thirty sponsors help support these teams. They are:

McCoy's Home Furnishings, Stickney's Hickory House, Shreve and Pryce Sports Shop, Peninsula Pacific Construction Company, C & P Shell, Palo Club, Menlo Square Market, Floyd Lowe Realtors, Preuss Pharmacy, Simpson's Barber Shop, Scotty Campbell's, Bob Hipp Welding.

Menlo Toy and Hobby Shop, Anne's Coffee Shop, Hogan's Shoes, Cliff Davis, Menlo Motors, Palo Alto Times, Pinkey's Market, New Menlo Cleaners, Dudley's Kitchen, Buy and Save Market, Dunn and Miles Insurance, Menlo TV, Dorel's, Rex Flood Coverings, Geo. Hirzel Jewelers, Clifford's Drugs, Red Cottage and Jimmy's Barber Shop.

Menlo Baptist Nine Takes First Loss

The Menlo Park First Baptist softball team lost its first game in the Peninsula Baptist League last Saturday night, 7-8, to Burlingame at Washington park there.

Menlo took an early lead in the first inning on Marv Flowers' three-run home run. In the fifth, with Menlo leading by one run, Burlingame had men on first and third with none out. Flowers again came through on a dazzling catch of a line drive to start a fast triple play.

The game went into extra innings, with Menlo scoring one run in the top of the eighth, only to have Wheeler of Burlingame connect for a two-run homer to chalk up the win for Burlingame by the final 8-7 score.

Last Week:

Menlo Greys Draw First Blood, But Lose; Lowe's, Menlo Motors Win in Babe Ruth

The Menlo Greys just can't seem to win a ball game in the Peninsula Babe Ruth baseball league.

Last Thursday, for the fifth time in seven games, the Greys drew first blood and led early in the game. And for the seventh time in seven games, they were beaten. This time, 3-2, by the Los Altos Red Sox at Mountain View high school.

Other Menlo teams held their own in midweek play last week. Lowe realtors topped the Los Altos White Sox, 11-10, in one extra inning at Flood park. Menlo Motors dumped Spiro's, 9-4, at Redwood City; and the Blues battled the Redwood City Knights of Columbus right to the wire, but finally succumbed, 5-7, at Burgess field. All were Wednesday games.

In the other Thursday tilt, Palo Alto Sport shop and Couch builders, tied for the Southern division lead, remained just that way when they battled to a 2-2 time limit draw at Wilbur junior high school.

Roger Postlewaite pitched three-hit ball for the Greys in their game, but was betterd by a two-hit, nine strike out effort on the part of the Red Sox' Rick Tippett. Both the hits off Tippett were triples, and both resulted in runs. Postlewaite hit one and third baseman Nerhli the other.

Chris Hemmitter doubled in two runs with two out in the fourth inning to highlight a three-run Sox uprising that gave them the lead for keeps.

In the battle for Southern division top honors, a single by Don Powell, Menlo-Atherton high school pitcher, scored Don McPhail, who had also singled, with two out in the last half of the seventh inning to keep the Sport shop in contention. Powell opposed Couch's Dick Holden on the mound.

The Lowe's and White Sox game was a real wild one, and ended just that way—wildly. The Sox scored seven runs in the third to go ahead, 7-2, but Lowe's came back with five in the fourth to knot it at 7-all. It was 9-9 at the end of their regular game.

Warron Rouse's White Sox went ahead with one more score in the eighth.

Lynn Larson was safe on a fielder's interference in the bottom half and Mike Mirsky singled him to third, taking second himself on the throw-in. Frank Denny ran for Larson and scored when Cliff Gwartney rapped his third single of the game, Mirsky attempted to score on the same hit and did so when Catcher Bob Overman dropped the peg from the outfield.

Lead off batter Bud Corson started the game with a home run for Lowe's in the first inning. Mirsky clobbered a bases' loaded triple to highlight the winners' five-run fourth.

John Garibaldi, making his first pitching appearance of the year, had a one-hit shutout going against Spiro's until the last inning. He finished with a four-hit, four-run, nine strike out performance.

Willie Marino hit a single, double and bases loaded triple for Menlo Motors.

A two-run Menlo Blues rally fell short with the tying runs on base in the last inning. Larry Irwin hit two singles and a double and scored two runs for the Blues while Bob Ralls, the pitcher, rapped two singles and a long sacrifice fly.

First Burgess Swim Meet This Sunday

Burgess pool's defending champion Peninsula Inter-club swimming association team faces a major obstacle when it hosts Menlo Circus club this Sunday in the first round of league dual meet competition.

Coach Tommy O'Neill's Burgess team, league champion for two years running, entertains the Circus club squad in a meet beginning at 11 a.m. Menlo Country club meets San Carlos at Clyde Devine's pool there at 10 a.m. and Los Altos and Peninsula country clubs square off at Los Altos at 3 p.m. in the other league meets.

Although league competition gets underway Sunday, it is still not too late to try out for the Burgess team, according to the Menlo Park recreation department. O'Neill's squad practices at Burgess pool Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 5 p.m.

Twenty-four events covering races for anyone up to 16 years old are included in all league meets. Backstroke and freestyle sprints, diving and relay events are included.

There is even a race for the youngest paddler—the six years and under mixed 15-yard freestyle.

For boys eight and under there is a 25-yard freestyle race. The same event is open to girls eight and under, boys ten and under, and girls ten and under.

There are separate 50-yard freestyle sprints for boys and girls 12 and under, 14 and under, 16 and under—making six events in all.

Boys or girls eight and under can enter in 25-yard backstroke races. Fifty-yard backstroke events are scheduled for boys and girls 12 and 14 and under all in separate races.

Girls 16 and under may enter into a 50-yard backstroke race while there is a 50-yard breaststroke race for boys' 16 and under.

Three categories of diving are included in league meets. They are boys 12 and under, boys 16 and under, and all girls.

Final events on each dual meet program are the boys and girls' relays. Each relay team includes four members whose ages total 48 years and who swim one lap each.

Schedule for dual meets this summer:

Treasure Hunt Next Week's Special Event

Pirates will invade the Menlo Park Recreation department playgrounds next week for their annual "Pirate Treasure Hunt,"

The hunt will be held at Willow and Belle Haven playgrounds on Wednesday at 3 p.m. and Oak Knoll and Nealon on Thursday at 3 p.m.

Throughout the week the playground activities will evolve around a pirate theme ending on special event day with the treasure being found and shared with all the participants.

Pirates are requested to come to the hunts garbed in pirate regalia. The week's contest will be "Blockhead."

Meanwhile, this week the first editions of the playground newspapers made their appearance on each playground and it was noted that work has begun on the forthcoming playlet contest which will be held July 29 at Burgess tehater for all playgrounds. All interested "future stars" are invited to their nearest playground to work on these playlets.

East Paly Legion Leading League

Still undefeated in league play, East Palo Alto American Legion Post 472's junior baseball team draws a bye in league competition this Sunday but tackles Redwood City Adobe Post 828 in a practice game at Community park in Redwood City.

Coach Dave Dahle's stalwarts turned back San Carlos Post 585 for the second straight time last Sunday, 7-2, at San Carlos to assume a 1½-game lead in District 26 action.

San Carlos and Adobe play in the league tilt this Sunday, beginning at 1 p. m. at Community park. Adobe squares off with East Palo Alto in a practice game one-half hour after the conclusion of the counting tilt.

East Paly was never behind in last Sunday's ballgame, but led by a perilous 3-2 margin until the last inning when a four-run splurge iced the win. A single by Jerry Baker drove in two of the runs.

Bob Wendell's two-run double with two out in the fifth broke up a 1-all tie and sent the locals winging on their way. Larry (Flash) Miller, backed up by tight defensive baseball, spaced four hits for the victory. He walked five, struck out nine.

Two San Carlos pitchers, Masek and Cocchi, struck out 11 between them, but walked six and gave up hits at crucial moments.

Dave Moore of Judd and Wright smashed five hits in nine times at bat last week to move into the Menlo-Atherton National Little League batting lead with a torrid .615 average.

Moore was hitting .750 previous to last week's play, but had been up only four times, not enough to qualify for top honors.

Bob Kinsley, the previous week's official leader, got only one hit in four trips to the plate last week and dropped to fourth in the standings with a .471 average.

Seybold and Ferguson's Jim Jorgensen topped the league in runs batteded in after six games, but was not listed among the top ten hitters. Jorgensen had five RBI's and a weak .188 batting average. He had hit one grand slam homer, however.

Phil Arnaudo, who led the league along with Lundgren the previous week, had slipped to fifth place, at .412 in the heavy hitting National circuit. Arnaudo's three home runs and eight runs batted in in six games were the top marks in those departments, however.

Softball Doubleheader on Tap Tonight As Menlo Recreation League Starts Season

Menlo Park Recreation softball league play swings into high gear at Nealon park tonight as half of the eight league teams see their first action of the season.

The Post Office plays the Menlo All-Stars at 7 p.m. and Preuss Pharmacy meets G-C Store at 8:45.

In next Tuesday's games the Post Office takes on the Menlo Public Employees at 7 p.m. and Allstate insurance crosses bats with St. Raymond's at 8:45.

St. Raymond's and the Public Employees were the winners in the first night's doubleheader on Tuesday. Both games were wild, high scoring tilts but both were very close after the first few innings.

Menlo Public Employees scored 13 runs in their first frame, but none thereafter and hung on for a 13-11 victory over Allstate insurance. St. Raymond's tallied 12 in the first and battled tooth-and-nail for an 18-17 verdict over Oaks Bar-B-Q.

Seventeen men batted in the opening canto for the Public Employees, the visitors in the first league game. Pete Gerbo's home run highlighted the frame, which also saw doubles by Hacker, Rosander, and Gerbo on his second time up.

The Employees couldn't even get close to scoring after reliefer Hammond took over, however. Allstate pecked away, scoring in every inning but the first, but never quite caught up.

Lister hit two doubles and a single for them and Nelson rapped two single and a double. Hammond hit three singles as the losers collected 17 hits in all.

Pitcher Bobby West of Oaks Bar-B-Q had two out and nobody on base in the first inning when all of a sudden things began to go wrong. By the time things were right again, West was no longer around, 12 runs had been scored, 16 men had stepped into the batter's box and the game was being played under protest.

Oaks manager Bobby Wendell protested the game after the umpires' ruling on a ball batted down the third baseline. it was called fair and resulted in two St. Raymond's runs. Wendell claimed a misinterpretation of the rules which would have made it a foul ball with no scoring damage. No action has been taken on the dispute yet.

The Oaks, despite their poor start, came right back with eight runs of their own in the first inning. They added seven more in the second to take a 15-12 lead, but then surrendered six in the third and fell behind again, 15-18. They got two more, but never scored the all-important tying run.

Big blows for the winners were John Tuttle's home run and two singles, Maurice Dhuyvetter's double and two singles, and Dan Derry's triple. The Oaks' nine produced three home runs, but were outhit, 14-8. Al (Muggs) Robinson, Mike Mirsky and West all hit for the circuit and Wendell hit a double and a single.

Menlo Greys Upset Palo Alto Sport Shop, Lowe Realtors Move Up in Babe Ruth Play

After seven unsuccessful attempts, the Menlo Greys finally won a game in the Peninsula Babe Ruth baseball league last Saturday. And when the drought ended the water was sweet, as the local team's first triumph was a one-hit job over none other than the traditionally powerful Palo Alto Sport Shop.

Jerry Gibbs was the man on the mound when the sun broke through for Coach Frank Betten court's nine. Gibbs set the Sport Shop batters down with only a single by Don Powell and he returned 12 of them to the bench on third strikes.

Gibbs was also strong at the plate, rapping two hits and driving in two runs. John Potter was also a big sticker for the Greys with two-for-two and two runs batted in. Nine walks by two Sport shop pitchers also helped the Greys' cause.

The Greys' win wasn't the only upset of the day. Another traditional powerhouse, the Redwood City Knights of Columbus, fell victim to the Los Altos Red Sox, 7-5 as the Red Sox took over the Southern division lead.

Jimmy Boyce, former Menlo-Atherton Little Leaguer, scored the winning run all the way from second base on Rick Tippett's infield single in the sixth inning. Then Rick Tippett added an icer when he came around on brother Bob Tippett's solo shot.

The Knights had tied the score in the tip of the sixth woth three runs on Bob Houweling's home run and Ray Cassetta's two-run single.

Dave Keith, the winning pitcher, struck out 12 and Don McMullen, the loser, whiffed 10.

Lowe Realtors moved to within one game of the Knights in the Northern division race as they edged Couch Builders, 5-4. Lowe's took the lead with a three-run first inning when Stu Colpitts hit a two-run triple and then scored himself.

Couch threatened with three runs after two were out in the seventh inning and had the tying and winning runs on base when Cliff Gwartney got pinch hitter Marshall Armstrong to ground out to end the game.

Menlo Motors scored seven runs in the last two innings to rack the Menlo Blues, 12-6, in the cross-town battle. The Blues were held to one hit by Cliff Davis and Roosevelt Jones, but scored six runs in the fourth inning on five walks, an error and three passed balls.

Ted Kobey walked four straight in the fifth frame to force in one run and then Joe Fessio and Guerra each wrapped two-run singles to give Menlo Motors a 10 6 lead.

Guerra had accounted for three runs the inning before with a bases-loaded triple.

Spiro's topped the White Sox, 8-2, in the other game. Three White Sox pitchers walked 16 men, but only ave up one hit—a single by Steinbit. The Sox managed just two—by Dick Turner and Bob Overman.

Teams Set for:

'TEENAGE BASEBALL

It is not too late for 'teen-agers to enter into the Menlo Park recreation department's summer recreation baseball program.

All boys between the ages of 13 and 17 are eligible, regardless of residence and other baseball activity, but they should sign up soon so as not to get left out.

Frank Bettencourt, frosh-soph baseball and football coach at Menlo-Atherton high school, is coaching teams in two age groups—13-15 and 16-17. The teams are practicing daily at Burgess field. The 13-15 year old team works out at 1 p. m. and the older boys' team later in the afternoon.

Clinics are in store for both teams at the present, but both will soon begin play in the Peninsula Association league. The 13-15 year olders will play league games on Saturdays and the 16-17 year olders on Sunday afternoons.

Lowe Bats Heavy In 15-3 Victory

It seems that nobody can match the strength of the Lowe's batters as they won again 15-3. The Kiwanis were never in the game as the Lowe's really went to work. Their battery was Horney pitching and Lew Cryer catching.

Phil Arnaudo and Mike Cottrell hit home runs for the winners. Arnaudo's was a grand slam.

The battery for the losing Kiwanis was Crawford and Demeter pitching and Steve Lundgren catching. They scored all their runs in the third inning. The Kiwanis are having a hard time trying to get on the winning road.

Seybold-Ferguson Downs Sport Shop

Seybold & Ferguson gave Shreve & Pryce another defeat last Wednesday by beating them 8-3. The battery for the winning Seybold & Ferguson team was Clark pitching and Jim Jorgensen catching.

Buck Clark was also the hitting star as well as the pitching star. They had good all around hitting and pitching.

Big inning for the Seybold & Ferguson team was the fourth when they put across three runs.

The battery for Shreve & Pryce was Dennis McHenry and John Curti pitching and John Lencioni catching.

California's production of gold in 1954 was 235,030 fine ounces.

Dry-Point Portraits In Stanford Display

STANFORD — Dry-point portraits of famous statesmen and new-type color wood block prints form two Stanford art gallery exhibits which will be on view until mid-July.

The portraits, done from life, are of 25 leading figures in the 1921-22 Washington conference on the limitation of armaments. The set, being shown on the Pacific coast for the first time, is a special edition in which each portrait bears the actual autograph of the subject.

Kiwanis Record Upset Over Lions In 1-0 Contest

The Kiwanis beat the Lions in an airtight game 1-0. The battery for the Kiwanis was Miller and Demeter and for the Lions it was Roman and Partemi pitching and Montgomery catching.

The winning run was scored when Doug Brothers walked and advanced to third on a single by Sisernoz. Mark Roman then won the game when he singled to bring home Brothers.

The winning pitcher was Dave Miller. He pitched a beautiful 3-hitter in recording the victory. Miller struck out 10 Lion batters.

Roman and Partemi gave up only four hits, but their pitching effort went to waste. The Kiwanis only made one error and the Lions didn't make even one.

Judd-Wright Hot, Raps S-P by 15-5

Judd & Wright really layed the lumber to Shreve & Pryce, beating them 15-5. Judd & Wright had two five-run innings in the third and fifth.

The battery for the sport shop was Dennis McHenry and John Curti pitching and John Lencioni catching. They got four runs in the first inning on Dennis McHenry's grand slam home run, but after that it was all Judd & Wright.

Battery for the winning nine was Dingleman and Wright pitching and Dave Moore catching.

Eight Shreve & Pryce errors helped Judd & Wright gain the victory. The winners made only two errors. They got 10 hits in recording the win. The sport shop got only four hits.

Lions Tally 15 In Rout of AAM

The Lions beat the All American Market last Wednesday 15-3. The Lions got 11 hits and the market got six. The market made seven miscues.

Big inning for the market was the fifth when they registered two of their three runs. The battery for the winning Lions was Smith and Partemi pitching and Montgomery catching. For the market it was Pancharian and Nelson pitching and Kent Bach catching.

Youthhaven Will Conduct Booth at Rodeo

"Hit the fishbowl with the ball and take home a fish," that will be the barker cry at the Redwood City Rodeo come July 3, 4 and 5 and behind the pitch will be members of East Menlo Park Youthhaven, Inc.

The fundraising project is the latest in efforts of this six-months old organizatian for the benefit of all youth to garner money for activities in the Belle Haven area.

When the club was formed six months ago, the nine men on the board of directors established the main purpose and functions for the betterment of all youth. "To make better citizens of our boys and girls, to promote good will and to give them a recreation and meeting place" is their goal.

At the present time the board has been expanded to eighteen, and a membership drive is currently under way.

"To date we have no meeting place nor much recreation in this area," Emmett Serocki, publicity director advised. "The going is slow and rough and therefore we urge everyone in the area to help whenever and wherever possible. We are attempting to purchase a site and also to buy one of the buildings that have been condemned by the state division of highways, but we need money and lots of it.

"Every penny we get moves us that much nearer the goal of a youth center in Belle Haven."

Youthhaven is a non-profit corporation.

Down to Earth:

Vegetable Plants Are Not Only Useful For Filling Bare Spaces, but Table Also

By TERRY LEE

Replanting bare spaces in the garden with vegetables and flowers assures the gardener of a continuous crop and a handsome garden. But too many times succession sowing gets lost in the shuffle. Actually, all it needs is an organized system of planting. For the principle is merely the starting of another vegetable or flower crop as soon as the space is vacated by an earlier maturing one.

For example, the vegetable crop falls into two groups. Tomatoes, eggplant, peppers, spinach, Swiss chard and pole beans grow all season from one planting. Bush beans, carrots, beets, lettuce, corn and radishes do not last all season. Hence they are candidates for succession sowing. Peas, incidentally are planted in spring or not at all.

Gardens started early in spring need refills. Beans, carrots or beets can be sown in rows left by early lettuce or cabbage. Broccoli can fill up the holes from the pea vines.

There is a simple principle that is generally followed in planning and carrying out succession plantings. Leafy or fruit crops maturing above grounds are followed by root crops and vice versa. This is fairly simple to work out, as lettuce can be followed by carrots, radishes by beans.

Except for Oak Leaf and Bronze Beauty, lettuce is forgotten during hot months and started again late in July. Cucumbers produce so heavily that vines become depleted and another crop can be started in July. It is also not too late for tomato plants. Squash is another warm weather crop and we love the yellow summer squash and the fall Acorn. It is not too late for corn either. We have found sowing the seeds in blocks rather than rows insures better pollination. Pumpkins can be sown in hills between the corn rows to yield for Hallowe'en. We also have some around the new fruit trees because they get a lot of water every two weeks.

We start thinking about the fall vegetables in July, and put in cabbage and broccoli. Experiments have shown that spacing cabbage seedlings 12 inches tends to keep the heads small, which is preferable for family use, and increases the yield.

FLOWERS REMAIN

The flower garden needs attention this time of year too. Annuals remain the mainstay for the rest of the season. They are marvelous for the gardener's ego because they grow so easily and make such a display.

Seedlings of marigolds, petunias, zinnias, verbenas and snapdragons will give prompt bloom. But by fall plants can look shabby and new ones for replacement can be started from need now. Marigolds bloom in about nine weeks, Lilliput zinnias in six, nasturtiums pop up in hot, poor soil in seven days.

Portulaca and arctotis are two other candidates for quick display in hot spots. I sprinkle bright blue cynoglossum around iris and have a colorful border when the iris foliage is cut back next month, and cornflowers do the same for bleeding heart.

Refills are in order, and early larkspur can be followed by cosmos. Nigella, cornflowers, calliopsis, poppies, alyssum and babysbreath may be shown until the middle of July.

A new porch or fence can be shaded if seeds of the cardinal climber are sown this week. The fernlike foliage and bright red blossoms make a gay screen. If morning glories are chosen instead, it is best to soak the seed overnight before planting.

* * *

GARDEN CALENDAR
WEEK OF JUNE 30

It takes only a few hot days to convince any home owner that a shade tree or two will make his yard and house more livable. A high branched tree such as an elm is ideal for its filtered shade, and this is one of the few states where an elm can be grown without fear of disease.

The Chinese elm is evergreen and a 20 foot tree, the deciduous elm grows beyond 40 feet.

Maples cast heavier shade and grow fast. The pin oak and red oak are two other good choices and are reasonably fast growers.

* * *

The most prevalent, though least seen, in hot dry weather is the tiny red spider mite. It is easier to detect their presence by the mottled, stippled, ebby or gray look of foliage on such plants as privet hedges, lilacs, abaleas, roses and some perennials.

Lindane is effective and can be combined with malathion for general spraying. The secret is said to be three applications about ten days apart—the first to knock off the mites, the second to destroy newly hatched eggs, and the third as insurance.

Wedding Is August 14:

Bill Scotford To Wed Lass from Chula Vista

BRIDE AND BRIDEGROOM ELECT

On August 14 Ensign William L. Scotford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Scotford of Santa Rita avenue, will claim Charmaine Daly of Chula Vista as his bride.

News of the couple's engagement was revealed earlier this month to both families, when the Scotfords and the benedict-elect's sister Cecily were in San Diego to meet Bill's ship.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robin Daley, attended San Diego junior college and San Diego State college. She was graduated from Lawton Medical school in Los Angeles and is now affiliated with the San Diego Medical Assistants organization.

A graduate of Sequoia high school, the prospective bridegroom received his degree from the University of Idaho where he took a liberal arts course and navy reserve officers training.

With one more trip to Japan, Guam and the Philippines aboard the USS Naifeh, a destroyer escort, Bill is to be discharged from the Navy in August, 1956.

Future Mrs. Lloyd Rogers:

Susan Nerney Engaged

From Mr. and Mrs. John H. Nerney of Menlo Park comes news of the engagement of their daughter, Susan Agatha, to Lloyd Vernon Rogers of Santa Clara.

Susan, the granddaughter of Mrs. Joseph Ruffatto of Menlo Park and Mrs. James Nerney of Ben Lomond and sister of Jane Nerney, was graduated from the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Atherton and attended the College of Notre Dame in Belmont.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Rogers of Santa Clara.

Following three years' service with the marine corps, he is currently attending the University of Santa Clara where he is majoring in philosophy. He is to receive his teaching credential from San Jose State college next June.

The benedict-elect is the grandson of Mrs. Barbara Puliatchk of San Bruno and the brother of Kathleen, Harvey and Patrick Rogers.

Plans for a September 3 wedding are now being formulated by the couple.

AMONG partygoers at Saturday's dinner dance at the Menlo Circus club were Mrs. Paul Wegeforth, Mrs. Edwin Lawry, the Marron Kendricks and Claus Spreckels are pictured to the right indulging in conversation; below, Alfred Baxter is discussing things with Mrs. Earle Douglass and Mrs. Baxter.

Bride Is Former Joan Cosgrove:

Justwed William McSweeneys To Live in Woodside Terrace

When they return from a honeymoon to Southern California, the justwed Mr. and Mrs. William Francis McSweeney will take up residence at their brand new Woodside Terrace home completed the week before the wedding.

The bride is the former Joan Marie Cosgrove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd J. Cosgrove of Atherton. Her two sisters, Claire Anne and Mary Ellen, acted as maid of honor and bridesmaid for the ceremony, with 10 year old John Cosgrove serving as altar boy.

The bridegroom, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Michael McSweeney of San Francisco, had chosen his brother Jack as best man. Usher duties were in the hands of Joseph McShane, William Kean, Frank Finnegan and George McLoughlin, all of the city.

PINK ORGANZA

The bridal attendants were gowned in ballerina length pale pink organza. Styled with V-necklines, full skirts and brief sleeves tied with bows, the dresses were complemented by matching headbands trimmed with pearls and face veils and bouquets of antherium and bouvardia.

For her costume the bride had chosen full length white tulle over satin, adorned with ruching and tiers an the skirt, a portrait neckline and long sleeves pointed over the wrist. As her "something old" Joan carried her mother's handkerchief, together with a prayer book marked with orchids and lily of the valley.

An heirloom lace fingertip veil and a crown of lace and pearls added the finishing touch.

NUPTIAL MASS

The couple's marriage had been solemnized at an 11 a. m. Nuptial Mass conducted by Joan's uncle, the Rev. Fred Cosgrove, SJ, at St. Pius church.

A garden reception at the Austin avenue home of the bride's parents was planned for the 500 guests, who were greeted by the newlyweds between two large standards of flowers on the front lawn.

An arrangement of tropical flowers had been placed in the barbecue house overlooking a begonia-laden pool, and Eddy Harkness' orchestra provided the background music for the affair.

GOING-AWAY SUIT

After the traditional cake-cutting was observed, the bride donned a sea foam colored suit with a shawl collar trimmed in rhinestones, a ribbon hat to match and black patent accessories.

An alumna of the Convent of the Sacred Heart in San Francisco, the new matron just received her general elementary teaching credential from San Jose State college. Her husband was graduated from Stanford university in 1951, and is now employed with the telephone company in San Francisco.

Honeymooning at Coronado:

Audrey Sullivan, Tom Mickley Married Saturday in Menlo Park

Audrey Fay Sullivan, escorted by her father Glenn P. Sullivan, walked down the aisle of the Menlo Park Presbyterian church Saturday afternoon to become the bride of Thomas Barr Mickley.

Preceding Audrey down the aisle was the bridegroom's sister, Mary Lou Mickley, of San Marino who wore a ballerina length frock of aquamarine marquisette styled with a shirred bodice and bouffant skirt. Her headpiece of stephanotis and pink carnations matched her bouquet.

The bride, who is a member of the Rebeccas, Oriental 90, and past president of Theta Rho, had chosen a full length nylon and lace gown for her marriage.

The lace bodice was covered by a small jacket with pointed sleeves and a high neckline edged with lace. The lace was repeated under the tiers of the bouffant, hooped skirt.

A coronet decorated with pearls and rhinestones clasped the heirloom lace-edged veil, "something borrowed" from a family friend, Mrs. G. G. Treversen of Menlo Park. Audreys' bouquet was made from stephanotis centered with two white orchids.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Mickley of San Marino, Tom had chosen his brother Richard as best man. The ushers, William Hirschfield and Patrick Hergho, were Stanford classmates.

RECEPTION SITE

Flowers banked the Marie Antoinette hotel where the newlyweds and their party were joined in the receiving line by Mrs. Sullivan, dressed in a soft blue princess styled frock, and Mrs. Mickley in beige silk.

After the cake was cut, Audrey retired upstairs to change into her going-away ensemble, a rose colored princess dress trimmed with white and matched with white accessories. Destination for the honeymooners was Coronado del Mar.

The justweds will then make their home in Virginia where the bridegroom — commissioned into the marine corps June 18—will undergo training at Quantico. Tom's commission preceded his June 19 graduation from Stanford in mechanical engineering.

SEQUOIA ALUMNA

The new matron is a member of Sequoia's 1951 graduating class; since 1952 she was employed as a receptionist in the physics department of Stanford Research Institute where her father is a sergeant on the security force.

The justweds hope to return to the peninsula after Tom's tour of duty.

Newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Duane Hellesto Now At Home in San Francisco Apartment

Carrying through a color motif of green and white, the June 19 wedding which united Beverly (Bev) Cummings of Menlo Park and Duane Hellesto of San Francisco was said to be one of the prettiest ever held at the First Baptist church here.

White stock, gladiola and tapers decorated the church, while garlands of ivy intertwined with hanging clusters of white carnations were placed along the windows.

A trio comprising Mrs. Luther Plankenhorn, whose husband officiated and whose daughter acted as one of the bridesmaids, Mrs. Ney Wilson, the bride's aunt, and Marjorie Klein rendered a song written especially for the wedding by a friend of Bev's.

Arbert P. Cummings gave his daughter in marriage.

BRIDAL GOWN

For the occasion the bride had donned a lovely lace, satin and tulle dress. The bodice, made of a floral-patterned lace, had a wide, scalloped neckline and long pointed sleeves. The bouffant tulle skirt, worn over a satin hoop, was sprinkled with appliques of matching lace.

A fingertip illusion veil was held in place with a tulle headpiece trimmed with seed pearls. Completing Bev's costume was her bouquet, a cascade of three white butterfly orchids combined with white roses and stephanotis.

The maid of honor, her sister Berta Lou Cumamings, wore a ballet length shimmering green crystalette frock with a slightly off the shoulder neckline and back detail. Her half cap and face veil matched the dress.

PALER GREEN

Marlyn Plankenhorn and Jean Thompson, the latter a fellow classmate from Westmont college in Santa Barbara, wore paler green copies of Berta's dress, and all three carried cascades of pink roses.

Attending the bridegroom, whose parents are in Norway, were Leland Grantz, best man, Al Larsen and Dick Meyer, ushers.

Mrs. Cummings attended the ceremony in light brown lace harmonized with a matching satin hat and shoes and a brown orchid corsage.

LIGHT PINK

Following the reception in the church parlor, the new matron donned a light pink dress with matching jacket (made by her mother) and white accessories. And midst a shower of rice the newlyweds departed for a ???? destination.

An apartment in San Francisco awaited their return last Sunday; the bride has since resumed her duties as a dental technician in the city where her husband is also employed with a painting firm.

Warren Halls Host Kentucky House Guests

Houseguesting this week at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Warren Hall, 125 Leland avenue, were Dr. Hall's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Scott Hall, professor of economics and his wife from Pennsylvania college.

In honor of their guests the local couple hosted a dinner on Tuesday with Major and Mrs. Oliver J. Todd of Palo Alto and Dr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Borrman of Los Altos on the invitation list.

The Scott Halls were to leave yesterday to return to their home in Lexington, Kentucky.

Honor Terese Denney Becomes Bride of Edmund B. Lennig III

Palo Alto residents until February, when the bridegroom starts his air force tour of duty, are the justwed Lieutenant and Mrs. Edmund B. Lennig III (Honor Terese Denney), whose marriage was solemnized Saturday at a noon Nuptial Mass at St. Anne's chapel.

Following a reception for 100 in the gardens of the chapel, the newlyweds departed for a destination undisclosed wedding trip.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Denney of Menlo Park, had greeted guests in a floor length white tulle wedding gown fashioned with a pleated tulle neckline edged with Chantilly lace, short sleeves and a fitted Basque bodice topping the bouffant skirt.

LILY OF THE VALLEY

Her fingertip veil fell from a wreath of lily of the valley, and clasped in her hand was a prayer book—the same one carried by her mother and grandmother on their wedding days—overlaid with orchids and stephanotis.

Also in the receiving line were the bride's sister, Joan Denney, a student at Notre Dame in Belmont, maid of honor for the occasion, and Sheila Kelley, a long time friend and classmate.

Both had donned afternoon dresses of ice blue styled along princess lines with full skirts, V-necks and three-quarter sleeves. Crowns of the same color trimmed with velvet ribbon and bouquets of white carnations and pink elf roses completed their costumes.

FRATERNITY BROTHERS

Serving as best man for the bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund B. Lennig Jr. of Modesto, was a Stanford Delta Chi fraternity brother, Lloyd Koster of San Francisco.

Usher duties had been assumed by Henry Mack of Bakersfield and Thomas Fitch of Kansas City, also Delta Chi's.

Michael Lennig, 10, Ed's brother, and Frank Denney Jr., 13, Honor's brother, served as the altar boys.

THE MOTHERS

Mrs. Denney greeted guests in a gray and white print silk after noon frock with white eccessories and a white orchid corsage, while Mrs. Lennig reecived in a green and white print with matching accessories and a spray of stephanotis pinned to her shoulder.

The bride studied at both Notre Dame high school and Notre Dame college in Belmont, while the bridegroom was graduated from Stanford last Sunday in political science, receiving his air force commission the day before.

Besides Joan, the bride has a three year old sister, Vickie.

Norman Bollums Observe Fifteen Years Together

While some wives might prefer a crystal bowl or doodad to a household appliance on the occasion of their fifteenth wedding anniversary, Mrs. Norman (Georgia) Bollum was quite pleased with her husband's gift on Monday—an electric deep fryer.

And to make their anniversary even happier, the Bollums were barbecue dinner host and hostess to the Oscar Kurlfinkes and the Roy Simons, who helped to eat the special white cake, piece de resistance for the affair.

Dedication Party Set Today at Jewish Center

Mrs. Max Horn of Menlo Park, co-chairman of the Camp Yomah committee, and Mrs. Edward Lindsay of Burlingame, chairman, have extended an invitation to all members and friends of the Peninsula Jewish Community center to attend today's Dedication Party.

The event will take place at 3 p. m. at the center, where a special campership fund honor roll plaque will be displayed for the first time. All organizations and individuals having contributed to the fund since 1954 will have their names inscribed.

Pearl Levin, Las Lomitas Teacher, Joseph Davis Jr. Wed Saturday at First Congregational Church Here

Another couple joining the ranks of newlyweds this month are Pearl Levin of Menlo Park and Joseph Stancliffe Davis Jr., who were married Saturday at the First Congregational church here.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lewis of Arcadia, received her bachelor's degree from Stanford and did graduate work at San Jose State college before joining the teaching staff at Las Lomitas school.

The son of Dr. Joseph Stancliff Davis, emeritus director of the Stanford Food Research institute, and Mrs. Davis, the bridegroom was graduated from Palo Alto high school and Stanford where he was affiliated with Delta Chi fraternity.

NEW HOME

He is now a second lieutenant in the marine corps and will make his new home with his wife in Laguna Beach.

For the afternoon ceremony the bride donned a chantilly lace gown with long sleeves, a scooped neckline and bouffant skirt with a sweep train. A crown clasped her silk illusion veil, and completing the ensemble was a bouquet of white orchids, lily of the valley and stehpanotis.

Sonja Vrasje and Holly Harris, the two attendants, each wore frocks of yellow crystalette and carried bouquets of talisman roses.

BRIDEGROOM'S PARTY

Bob Davis, the bridegroom's brother, was the best man, while Eldon Farley, Don Litz, Gail Wilkinson and David Turner ushered some 150 guests to their seats.

Mrs. Davis, who flew with her husband from the East where Dr. Davis is a member of President Eisenhower's Council of Economic Advisors, wore an ice blue lace dress with white accessories for the occasion. Mrs. Levin was gowned in a dusty rose lace frock with matching accessories.

The Allied Arts Guild in Menlo Park was the setting for a reception directly following the wedding ceremony. From here the bride, wearing a light blue suit and white accessories, and her husband departed for their wedding trip.

Army Daughters Meet on Wednesday

The Palo Alto home of Mrs. C. A. Bagby, 2070 Webster street, will be the setting for next Wednesday's gathering of the Peninsula chapter of Army Daughters. Mrs. David Battenfeld will serve as co hostess for the 8 p. m. meeting.

On the agenda will be the results of the Los Altos Horseplay Fiesta at which the Army Daughters sponsored a concession. In addition, future projects for the Stanford Speech and Hearing clinic will be aired.

Reservations may be made with either Mrs. Bagby, DA 3-9154, or Mrs. David Battenfeld, DA 2-9963.

Members and Friends of Menlo Park Garden Club Climax Season with Gala Tour of Local Gardens

By ITALIA CROOKS

The Garden club of Menlo Park climaxed its season's activities recently with a tour of four lovely gardens of members.

Mrs. Horace Baker on Bay Laurel drive was the first hostess visited by a group of more than 50 members and friends.

Guests were immediately transported to a miniature Japanese tea garden, where falls rush down from a stone cliff into the pool below, which is edged with diminuitive conifers and maples.

WATER PLANTS

In the pool itself are growing water plants and iris. This part of the Bakers' garden is enclosed by a lattice fence adjacent to the sheltered patio displaying Mr. Baker's collection of Bonsai.

Many containers of the dwarfed cedars, maples and conifers were exhibited by Mr. Baker, who explained that it took much patience and many years to grow such a Bonsai collection, and if he lived to be 100 he expected to be rewarded for his work.

The next stop on the tour was the combined family garden-recreation area of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Bogue and Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Kent on Middle court.

SURPRISE

These gardens were one of those delightful surprises, spreading out before the visitor upon opening the garden gate. The two areas, flanked by a duo of oak trees and carpeted with spacious lawns, feature a large blue swimming pool, the meeting place for seven children of various ages, their parents and friends.

Potted blooming plants adorn the two patios looking out at the pool.

The owners explained that the pots were set forward in rotation as the different plants, mostly shade flowers, blossomed. Tall ferns and philodendrons grow in niches against the long windows of the living room in the background.

SUN-LOVING BLOOMS

Across the pool and against the fences are a profusion of sun-loving flowers, while a family garden of small fruit trees and berries on trellises completes the plantings.

The combined gardens are completely cared for by both families, and are a cooperative effort of children and parents, alike.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent and Mr. and Mrs. Bogue said they had lived there for several years with fine coordination among the various family members as to the gardening duties.

The tour continued across the city to the formal garden of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Brooks on Ashfield road.

FREE FORM LAWNS

This spacious combination of free-formed lawns and trees is enhanced by the native cedars, pines and oaks growing in the vicinity. These trees are especially beautiful for their size, shape and varying shades of green.

The Brooks' grounds also have

Seven Wrights Didn't Go Wrong with Family Unit

When you have a family of seven, you have to have a family room of large proportions—at least this is the theory that Dick and Mimi Wright of Bay Laurel drive have gone on.

The result is a spacious and most attractive knotty pine living area which has almost forced the former living room into retirement.

Only one of several additions the Wrights' have made during the 11 years they've had their home, the family room was originally part of the patio. With the aid of an able architect the year-old unit has become an integral part of Mrs. Wright's knotty pine kitchen, separated by a handy serving counter which can double as breakfast table or bar.

Keynote for the family room is old Americana, with bright touches of copper blended with a braided rug (the handiwork of Mrs. Wright—it took seven years to accomplish), captain's chairs and a large round pine table equipped with its only "lazy Susan."

The joy of this unit, points out the lady of the house, is that is can accommodate all five of their children—Ricky, 12; Bill, 11; Helen, 9; Wendy, 2, and baby Robert, six months.

Young Robert, in fact, has his rocking crib in the room—it, too, gives a touch of the old Colonial with its weathered oak inlaid with burl and its long history (which the Wrights wish they knew) of rocking wee ones to sleep.

'STEPPED CEILING'

The ceiling of this gracefully angular room was constructed on two levels, with the lower one sheltering a "cozy corner," complete with a 4 by 8 foot couch-bed, or "bikiee" as the Wrights call it.

The brick fireplace, which takes up one wall in the low ceiling portion of the room, is an outsized one measuring 11 feet and having a 7 foot opening. Above the built-in woodbox is an area originally intended for the TV set, but now given over to a dance phonograph—mainly because the family finds it has plenty to do without the television there.

Beside the fireplace is a real "down to earth" sitting area, a miniature couch a couple of inches high comfortably cushioned and be-pillowed. This, says Mrs. Wright, brings forth an occasional guffaw from their friends but has proved wonderful for the little ones who can't fall off.

ACCOMMODATING FLOOR

The floor lends itself to play, dancing and easy upkeep; constructed of vinyl tiles, it needs only mopping and an occasional polishing.

Opening off the family room on the southwest side is a patio and lawn area and behind that on an upper level, the youngsters' tanbark playground—the latter features a former cub "den" and a tree house.

An overhang to the south of the family room covers a paved area leading up to the fire pit, an idea the Wrights borrowed from Nepenthe, which they love. The pit provides a marvelous place for roasting hot dogs and keeping feet warm on cool evenings.

MORE ADDITIONS

As we said at the beginning of the article, the new living unit is just one of the Wright family's additions to their home.

The first was the older boys' bedroom, a former garage. A spacious place much resembling a fraternity room, this unit is as durable as they come—linoleum covers the floor and the walls are of cedar.

The twin beds double as couches, with each equipped with two square bolsters. Otherwise, the room is lined with built-ins—from closet space to desks—as well as a display of pictures over the beds and awards won by the boys in both their extracurricular and school activities (right now, they are active Little Leaguers).

MASTER BEDROOM

The second addition made by the Wrights was their own bedroom, which they expanded by converting the existing room into a dressing and storage area and the patio into their sleeping quarters.

The bedroom itself, built on a lower level, features a brick wall and fireplace, the latter (much used) constructed so the Wrights can see the fire from their bed. Finishing off the fireplace area is a long copper planter filled with greenery.

The dressing room is entirely built-in, with sufficient storage space not only for clothing, but for such things as suitcases and Christmas ornaments.

NEW PLANS

Right now the family is making plans for fencing and seeding their front yard area, which has a driveway lined with eucalyptus trees and a little guest house (also under the heading of "additions").

It looks like the Wrights' home, like Topsy, just "growed and growed," and will continue to do so in its own leisurely and homelike (always with professional planning) manner.

Advice: Gather Ye Pebbles While Ye May For Something Unusual in Patio Decoration

By MAGGIE MOORE

Everyone is becoming interested in the ancient art of mosaic, an art we hasten to add, which is the newest thing out. Since we last told you about it, through the courtesy of William Barbour of Menlo Park, it has been turning up regularly on a wider horizon.

One of our favorite magazines—and one which all of us here in Menlo feel proud and proprietory about — Sunset — recently talked with Barbour about mosaic work.

Still another national magazine has brought out an article about the art in this month's issue. (Incidentally, this is the same magazine which just concluded its "dream house" contest Saturday with a display model home on Willow road in Linfield Oaks.)

NEAR EXAMPLE

Actually, we have had one of the finest examples of mosaic work on a large scale out at Stanford for more years than most of us can remember. This "new" idea, however, is in keeping with our do-it-yourself urges as well as creative talents.

For the as yet uninitiated, mosaic has been described as "bits of china, glass, marble and tile, inlaid in cement on a surface in a pattern." The larger mural types of mosaic work take years to handset while the average smaller ones—table tops, counter tops, etc.—can be done in weeks or less—almost like fitting together a jig-saw puzzle.

Some of us prefer to "break-in" on a new craft by easy steps—and so we would like to put before you another possibility only partially related to this fascinating art.

PEBBLE MOSAIC

This is pebble mosaic, another art which can be found more and more often in gardens all over the country—even at the United Nations in New York.

We've had it around in Menlo and the area for years. Just take a visit to the Allied Arts Guild and take a look at the paths and terraces. For that matter, visit Ramona street in Palo Alto and enter the little court, all paved in pebble mosaic.

Both the Allied Arts Guild and the quaint shops on Ramona street are the design of the late Pedro de Lemos, and we wish there were more examples of his work of this order.

DE LEMOS' DREAM

The Allied Arts Guild, now run by the Woodside-Atherton auxiliary to the Stanford Convalescent home to benefit the home, was a dream of de Lemos and just what the name implied.

At one time it housed a copper smith, silver smith and other artisans of that kind. Ceramic work was famous.

But back to the "pebble mosaic." This we recommend, especially since it is summer and the children are home with time sure to become heavy on their hands before school days roll around again.

The method of creating a pebble mosaic is first to make a simple plan or design. Then gather the pebbles which will make it up and set them into a cement base—either flagstone size or patio size. Your own choice rules here.

We might note that unless you are skilled, the patio size might not be the most practical and may take many years, but almost any one can manage a few flagstones.

The gathering of pebbles could be a summer project for the children. Picnics and camping trips could result in wonderful riches. As close as San Francisquito creek, running at the southern edge of town, you can find the smooth water washed pebbles to use.

HAVE A PICNIC

We don't recommend that you climb down into it from here; it wouldn't be the easiest plan. Instead, why not drive out Alpine road to the picnic park with a lunch, and spend a few hours wading the creek?

As a matter of fact, there are many nearby spots where the children, and even the parents, can enjoy gathering the pebbles. La Honda, the beach, even farther afield, or right in your own garden! Different colored stones can give a pattern to the design.

Besides using the pebble mosaic for flagstone-type paths, patios and garden steps, some examples have been incorporated into the bottom of small reflection pools. This is especially good for some pebbles which are so pretty under water and so lifeless out of it.

CEMENT RECIPE

If the actual cement mixing loors you, don't let it. We understand that you can purchase ready-mixes in sacks to which you merely add water, and stir, like a cake mix!

And then there is the less-expensive, simple "recipe" for it: Mix one part of portland cement with two parts sand and four parts crushed stone or gravel.

Atherton contractor Frank Morey recommends a variation on this: 1 part cement, 2½ parts sand and 3½ parts crushed stone or gravel. This makes a finer mix. In fact, by increasing the sand and proportionately decreasing the gravel you can get the consistency easiest to handle.

INTO FORMS

This is poured into forms and leveled with a board smoothed over it—like buttering bread. Final finishing comes when it has begun to set or harden. At this time you can press your design of pebbles into it.

When you do, remember to place the stones practically two-thirds under — like an iceberg floating in the water—this is simply so that they won't work loose and become unsightly rather than attractive.

As for the forms into which the concrete is poured, the home handyman can prepare these of wood or, easier still, just scoop out a flagstone-sized area in the garden path where it is to remain for keeps.

Just be sure that you finish the edges properly as it hardens so that it is not a hazard on the path.

This could be fun to do, and the results can be far more attractive than a slab of concrete path or terrace.

Addresses, Dates and Cautions For Would-Be Mexico Turistas

By BEA BOYNTON
(Fourth in a Series)

For your added information and pleasure on your South of the Board trip, here are a few suggestions:

Addresses that might come in handy, include Pemex Travel bureau, Juarez 89, for information and excursions; National City Bank, Icable la Catolica 54—for you know what; American Embassy, Reforma 45—do pay a call and sign the guest book.

What to buy and where to buy: Casa Avalos — Carretones 5—handblown glass. Even if you don't wish to buy, this factory is of high interest. Entirely different than those you have seen in Venice, Italy.

FOR JEWELRY

Maya de Mexico—Madero 29—exotic jewelry and handpainted blouses, etc.

Sanborns—Madero 4—this we have already mentioned and why.

Casa Ortega—Cinco de Moyo—first block eat of Belles Artes—silverware.

La Potranca—Cinco de Mayo 9—all kinds of leather goods—yummp stuff.

Monte de Piedade—on the Zocalo—the National Pawnshop I have mentioned.

Fiestas: Don't miss at least one. Check on dates besides these listed.

July—Entire month in honor of the Virgin del Carmen—a fair, fireworks, and dances, located 10 minutes south of Insurgentes boulevardy.

July 4—Usually a party at the American club, located on Independencia, one block south of the Juarez monument. You are invited.

September—Entire month, at Atzcapotzalco, 20 minutes north of Mexico City, superb horse races, fireworks of course, and colorful Pagan dances, etc., in honor of King Maxtla.

Money: the official currency is the Pesa—"$" which startles one at first, thinking the prices listed are in our dollars. There usually is a charge for accepting foreign currency, so do get enough pesos at the border to get you to your destination. Then go to the bank on arrival for a better rate of exchange; travelers checks are given preference. Personal checks drawn on your local bank are of little value.

Telephone and telegraph—no problem. You can telephone or telegraph any city in the world if you suddenly want to call Aunt Mehitable.

GUIDES

Guides: Only hire a guide (which you need) recommended by travel agency or your hotel. These are accredited men of reliability and knowledge, and are responsible men. You will be accounted by men offering to guide you here and there, but—don't.

Water: I do wish to remind you again about water. Its so easy to forget and brush your teeth from water out of the faucet. You really must not. Buy bottled water. It is inexpensive and the name is TEHUCAN (tay-wah-CON).

Beer is safe and so are standard brands of bottled soft drinks. For travelling—fill your thermos bottle at any of the soft drink factories along the highway. It's customary and expected. Their water problem is a heart breaking one, and how it is to be solved no one knows.

Market Days: These are so much fun, and so colorful, do go. You will have to check with your hotel or travel bureau about market days, in the place where you are stopping. Not only are they a camera fiends' dream, but you can buy materials and local handicrafts that you never see again. You'll love them.

the surprise of opening a gate to reveal a colorful shade garden under an oak, and to the left an inviting partially-closed patio with a modern mural on one wall, painted by one of our local artists.

The "tourists" rested on benches in the rear garden where a large half-circle and an irregular plot of lawn were planted, flanked by a rose garden on one side and several varieties of ornamental trees with vari-colored shrubs growing beneath on the other.

EDGE BEDS

Along the edge of the garden were beds of petunias, marguerites, gerberas and bright border plants.

The tour ended in the Glenwood avenue garden of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bonora.

Planted in a natural setting of seven oaks—one white and six live oaks—this garden covers two thirds of an acre, and is completely cared for by Mr. Bonora with the help of his young son.

The garden is necessarily a shade one featuring large groups of blooming dwarf hydrangeas in shades of rose and blue.

GARDEN WALKS

Walks circle the area so that visitors may better enjoy the beds of cinerarias, ferns, agapanthus, fuschias and begonias just coming into blossom. In a sunny spot to the rear is a thriving family vegetable garden giving great promise of summer corn, beans, squash and tomatoes.

After touring the garden, the group gathered on the lawn near an open veranda where the past president, Mrs. Walter Baumberger, introduced Mrs. V. G. Knudsen, formerly president of Peninsula Garden and Study club, now director of District B of California Garden clubs, Inc., which includes 25 garden clubs in San Mateo county and the Palo Alto club.

Following installation of new officers of the Menlo Park club by Mrs. Knudsen, guests were served coffee and sandwiches in the Bonoras' dining room.

The tea committee who planned the garden tour under Mrs. Walter Hanebergs's chairmanship included Mrs. J. L. Austin, Mrs. Fred Menta, Mrs. John Nixon and Mrs. Bonora.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Richard Starr and Mrs. Joseph A. Scaroni Jr. at whose home the parting party was given.

THE Wallace Ott family have returned from a stay at the Santa Barbara Biltmore where Mr. Ott was attending the four-day session of the Western Regional convention for the Aetna Life company leaders. Afterwards, the Otts went sightseeing in Southern California.

Many Bridal Showers Prove:

Surprises for Margaret Paccioretti

Margaret Ann Paccioretti, who will become Mrs. Loren K. Hergert on July 17 at the Church of the Nativity, has proven a hostess' delight this past two months.

The future bride, so we hear, has been surprised at not one but four showers, the first of which was given for her in May by fellow office workers at Hiller. Mrs. John Ewing's home in Palo Alto provided the setting.

The following Sunday bridesmaid Mary Rutz, who attended College of the Pacific and San Jose State college with Margaret, hostessed a lingerie shower at her home. Guests included several of the girls' Epsilon Lambda Sigma sorority sisters from COP.

Mrs. Mary Crozier and her daughter, Mrs. Ray Leuhr of San Francisco, gave another shower for the prospective bride at Mrs. Crozier's Menlo Park residence. And Tuesday night, Margaret was again surprised when Mrs. Donald Gaut and Mrs. Robert Blach, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cuff, co-hostessed a gathering.

Besides Mary Rutz, Margaret has chosen Mrs. Gaut and Mrs. James Gaughran (Joan McRae) as attendants, while flower girl duties will be taken over by young Denny Ray Trombetta of Oakland, the daughter of the bride-elect's godmother.

Bob Blach will act as Loren's best man, and ushers will be Arnold Thorson and Neil Van Straaten. Gary Bloomsfield has been named as junior usher.

Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mario Paccioretti, residents of Menlo Park for 18 years, and Loren, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Adam Hergert of Los Altos, will exchange marriage vows at 3 p. m., following which guests will be received at the Paccioretti home.

Adele Woods and George Hillman Norton Were Married Saturday at Stanford Memorial Chapel

Miss Adele Woods, a fourth grade teacher at Fremont school, changed her name to Mrs. George Hillman Norton at a ceremony held Saturday afternoon at the Stanford Memorial chapel.

Carrying a shower bouquet of stephanotis tied with long streamers, the bride was ecorted to the altar by her father, Dr. Edward K. Woods of Palm Springs. Nancy Miller, a childhood friend from Arcadia, and Betty Wright of Palm Springs preceded her down the aisle.

Following the wedding, 120 friends and relatives were invited to a reception at 821 Berkeley avenue in Menlo Park.

The bride greeted guests in her white ballerina length Chantilly lace and satin gown styled with a stand up collar, long pointed sleeves and an etched skirt edging.

The honor maid and secondary attendant wore ballet length frocks of nile green with lace redingotes cut away over nylon net. Both carried white baskets of flowers—Nancy's were purple delphinium and Betty's, lavendar, blue and pink blossoms.

Mrs. Woods received in a silver blue shantung suit with pink accessories, while Mrs. Norton's ensemble was a blue dress with deeper blue accessories. Both mothers had corsages of white orchids.

Monroe Wingate, a navy friend of the bridegroom from Albuquerque, New Mexico, stood as best man. Ushers for the ceremony were Neil Pryor of Bakersfield and Patrick O'Neil of Sacramento, Stanford classmates.

SPECIAL GUESTS

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lund of Oakland and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Woods of Oakland, grandparents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Woods, also of Oakland, an aunt and uncle.

The bride is a graduate of UCLA where she was affiliated with Alpha Delta Pi sorority, and has been an active member here of both the Young Republicans and the California State Teachers association.

Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Pope Norton of Summit, New Jersey, is an alumnus of Brown university in Providence Rhode Island, and also studied at Stanford Law school. A member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, he is currently working in San Francisco.

When the newlyweds return from their honeymoon tour of Lake Louise, Banff, Jasper and the East to visit friends, they will make their home in Palo Alto.

A HAYRIDE has been scheduled for July 9 by members of the Peninsula Jewish Community center Teenagers club.

CARD CLUB

Honeymoon Destination—Tahoe:

Carole Eve Cassasa Is Bride Of Thomas Alexander Patton

Pink and white, carried out with baskets of daisies and bridal party frocks, was the pretty color motif chosen for Carole Eve Cassasa's Saturday marriage to Thomas Alexander Patton.

The pastel daisies were placed on either side of the altar at Redeemer Lutheran church in Redwood City where the bride and bridegroom exchanged their vows and rings at a 4 p. m. ceremony.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Cassasa of Woodside, former Menlo Park residents, the bride had chosen a ballerina length dress of white dotted swiss and embroidered cotton for her wedding.

Bands of the embroidery decorated the wide neck and the hipline from which the bouffant dotted swiss billowed out over a series of four matching petticoats. A crown embroidered with three daisies, each centered with a pearl, clasped the bride's organdy fingertip veil.

Mementoes from Carole's trip to Europe last year carried out the traditional bridal accoutrements—"something blue" was a garter from Paris and the sixpence in the new matron's slipper came with her from London.

As the finishing touch to her costume, she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and bouvardia.

SIX ATTENDANTS

Six attendants preceded the bride down the aisle. In the role of honor maid was Lou Ann Philips of San Carlos, while Dorothy Cassasa, Carole's sister, and Leslie Sarle of San Carlos, both 12, acted as junior bridesmaids, and Georgene Bradshaw of Los Angeles, a cousin, June Browning of San Carlos and Cherry Tanner of Redwood City were the secondary attendants.

Lou Ann's frock was of pink dotted swiss fashioned like the bride's. Dorothy and Leslie wore dresses with pink taffeta bodices and pink dotted swiss skirts. The remaining trio were dressed in torso length pink dotted swiss with three rows of tiny embroidered daisies dipping from shoulder to shoulder on the bodice.

The four young women each wore daisy headdresses with short veils and carried large marconi daisies of shocking pink and white. The younger girls carried old fashioned bouquets of small daisies.

BRIDEGROOM'S PARTY

Kenneth Patton stood beside his brother in the role of best man; both are sons of Mr. and Mrs. R. Douglas Patton of Sacramento.

Ron Rissone of Reno, Robin Moerman and Jerry Moerman of San Carlos, Robert Collier of San Mateo and James Dickson of Carmichael seated the wedding guests, who included the couple's only grandmother, Mrs. Charles Cassasa Sr. of Redwood City.

The Lindenwood home of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Peterson provided the setting for an indoor-outdoor reception following the ceremony. Background music was provided by a family friend, George Gillespie, who was stationed at the piano.

HONEYMOON

Before the newlyweds left for their honeymoon to Lake Tahoe, Carole changed into a two-piece dressmaker suit of black, red and white heavy woven cotton; her accessories were all white.

The couple will be at home in Berkeley until they are both graduated from the University of California where the bridegroom is majoring in civil engineering.

Ceremony and Reception Held Sunday in East Palo Alto:

Martinez-Dalecio Rites First at New Church

Dolores Martinez and Peter Michaed Dalecio Jr. became man and wife on Sunday afternoon during the first marriage ceremony conducted at the new Church of St. Francis in East Palo Alto.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her stepfather, John Sausedo, was gowned in chapel-trained tulle and satin styled with a fitted bodice appliqued with lace, a softly rounded neckline and long sleeves pointed over the fingertips.

The long, three-tiered illusion veil was held in place by a Juliet cap inlaid with irridiscent pearls. For her flowers Dolores had a cascade of white orchids, lily of the valle yand stephanotis.

Joan Marlene Aguilar of San Mateo, a cousin of the bride, Barbara Atkins, Gwen Collins and Diane Rennert wore waltz length frocks of tulle in their roles of honor maid and secondary attendants.

The dresses featured low, scooped necklines and short puffed sleeves. As accessories the young women wore horsehair hats trimmed with contrasting bows—Joan in an orchid dress had yellow accessories and carnations, while the other two reversed the colors.

As best man the bridegroom, son of Mrs. Peter Dalecio and the late Mr. Dalecio, had chosen his brother Michael. Richard Sausedo, a brother of the bride and Leslie Dalecio, Peter's other brother, served as ushers.

White gladiola and candlelight provided the setting at Father Richard T. Howley read the nuptials which had been preceded by vocal selections from Emile Raynal.

Among those who watched the ceremony were Thomas Dominguez of San Jose, the bride's grandfather; Mrs. Manuel Lema of San Jose, an aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dominguez and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dominguez, aunts and uncles.

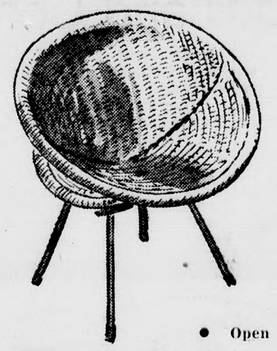

The Pythian Castle hall was decked with white wedding bells, gladiola, yellow, orchid and white ribbons for the reception which followed.

After the young couple cut their four-tiered wedding cake, Dolores disappeared to change into her going-away outfit, a pink knit two-piece dress trimmed with white angora and accented with white accessories.

A destination kept secret was on the honeymooners' travel itinerary, with the final stop to be in Bremerton, Washington, where the bridegroom is stationed. They expect to return shortly to live in this area.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sausedo of 923 Alberni avenue, attended Menlo-Atherton high school; her husband is an alumnus of San Bruno high school.

KAISER HOSPITAL in San Francisco on June 11 was the scene of the birth of an 8 pound, 3 ounce son to Mr. and Mrs. George Willey.

HOME AGAIN—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chaffee, 280 Ravenswood avenue were pictured aboard the luxury liner, "SS Lurline" when it sailed May 16 for Hawaii. The Chaffees returned recently by plane after a very full vacation which included tours of the various islands in the Hawaiian group.

What's Doing Among Menlo Park Teen-Agers

Jo Booth DA 3-1909

By CAROL TUFT
DA 3-9217

While columnist Jo Booth bakes in the "wee bit hot" Sacramento sun enjoying the seventh session of Girls State, (which, in her own words, is no less than "terrific"), for other travelers and tourists and us shut-ins here at home, life hasn't proven too dull either.

* * *

MESSAGES—
—from the land of sky blue waters say that Dave Moose and Jim Fitch are spending their summer helping to snuff nasty blazes, while lumberjacking in the near vicinity is helping Dohr Bogue build muscles for football at Fresno State next fall.
—from the not-so-pleasant land of pills and pain report Sue Legallet in "fine condition" after she spent last week in the Palo Alto hospital in traction to patch up an ailing back.

A friend in need is a friend indeed as her friends proved last week when slightly more than a few popped in to cheer her up.

Offering their well wishes were Sam McErlane, Joanne Broeren, Anne Stapleton, Barbara Dickman, Barc Corbus Betsy Hackney, Arlene Cottrell Frank Galli, Jon and Jok Legallet, Nancy McDowell, Barbara DeAngelus, Lynn Mokler, Lenny Coplestone, Page Godbe and last but certainly not least her cat and her milkman (that cat sounds like a sponger!)
—say that Jon and Jok Legallet have studiously undertaken German lessons in the city in preparation for their jaunt to Europe in August.

The same thrilling prospect is in store for another M-A graduate. Leaving her job at the clinic in two weeks, Sue Severin will fly to New York and then take a boat for Europe where in the fall, she plans to go to school in Switzerland.
—sadly tell of Billie Curry and Ellen Fitzsimmons moving to the East.

* * *

SUN SPOTS—
—Sea Cliff—where Diane Neil and Sally Seaver spent last week acquiring a darker shade and a "terrific time."
—Lake Tahoe — here Georgia Houston is spending her summer and smartly attiring herself in a golden brown.
—Santa Barbara—resting from the terrific and highly appreciated job they did on the recent grad party, the Otts, plus family, are enjoying their sun in Santa Barbara.

* * *

TRAVELERS AID—
—Carolyn and Anne Duniway are currently on their way home from Detroit in a new car on their way home means via New York and a general tour of the U. S.!
—Jackie Thompson is listening to the clickety clack of the railroad tracks as this goes to press. On her way to New York, Jackie plans to visit with friends and then fly home at the end of the summer.
—Montana and Canada and everything in between is being covered by Pete Welch on his vacation tour while out east Phyllis Gates has picked Chicago and Kansas City for her vacation spots.
—Friends report that Carol Blake is having a "stupendous" time during her stay at Twain Hart in the Sierras.

* * *

SOCIETY NOTES

Because friends seem to be few and far away, parties are becoming quite sparse, too, but when a good friend has to move, a going-away party is usually in order.

That's the way Margie Fitzmaurice felt when Connie Brown announced she was moving to the east. To make a sad story short, Margie invited some friends over to what Connie thought was a year book signing party but what turned out to be a surprise going away party.

Wishing her a "bon" trip and eating spaghetti and all the fixin's were Sue Severin, Page Godbe, Lenny Coplestone, Nancy Achilles, Bunny Clark, Alanna Cottrell, Cathy Peterson and Margie Hutter.

As friends depart so do friends arrive and a party seems to be the happy coincidence for both. Such was the case when Nancy Van Artsdale gave a welcome mother and daughter tea for recent arrivee Carol Drury.

Assuring her that Virginia's loss will be M-A's gain next year were Rhoda Maxfield, Linda Crawford, Peggy Snyder and Nancy.

CAREER CHASERS

While others see the world and loaf in the sun, most of us have our nose to the grindstone, earning some lettuce.

Working in the big city are Marge Fitzmaurice, Bunny Clark, Jean Peasley and yours truly. Putting their shoulders to the wheel, or rather their feet to the shovel are Ken McKenna, Troy Ratliff, Bob Harold and Larry Irwin.

Lending a helping hand (and many sore feet) in clothing stores are Ginger Hedge, Cathy Peterson and Pat Kelly. Swimming for their supper as life guards and pool attendants are Jan Cohn, Mary Healy and Bea Bowen.

Making fun out of their work of supervising kids' play are Cindy Klink and Mikel Ann Edlen. If you happen to take a tour of Sunset you might encounter the friendly face of Amrette Ott as your hostess.

Menlo teeners are really a busy lot, so please telephone your tidbits in—all news is good news and really appreciated.

Fat joke for the week — Breakfast menu for ghosts: Ghost Toasties and evaporated milk. (Ugh!)

RECORDER photographer Bob Newcomb and his wife Kathy celebrated their first wedding anniversary Monday evening with a quiet dinner at home.

Brilliant Paris Film Opening Described by Touring Localite

Paris' preview of Cinerama, timed with the closing of the Follies for rehearsal of the new show, occasioned a spectacle of haute couture, according to Arletta Edholm, who is currently on a tour of Europe.

Mrs. Edholm, manager of one of our women's dress shops, explained in a letter to the Recorder that the Cinerama preview "was a full dress affair, and celebrities turned out en masse to see it.

"A doorman in full uniform received the guests, after which Parisienne models greeted them from a receiving line as they distributed fresh flower corsages and programs. Next came a double line of gendarmes at attention, between which filed the brilliant srteam of fashionable guests."

PREDOMINATING STYLE

The predominating style, writes Mrs. Edholm, was the very full, low bodice gown.

There were a few oustanding theater suits, too, she noted, with sheath skirts extending to the ankle, often trimmed with gold embroidered collars and cuffs. Some of the sheathes might even be called "hobble skirts" because of their tight, slim line.

White chiffon sprinkled with glitter, pastel chiffon and black lace seemed to be the most popular according to Mrs. Edholm.

Crowds of people lined the side walk to watch the chauffeured cars being driven up, and at one time a murmur rose and swelled almost into cheers as a beautifully groomed woman alit gowned in bright green and furred in a white ermine stole. Drawing equal excitement was an ensembde consisting of a full length American Beauty satin evening coat worn over white.

FAILLE COATS

Faille coats, writes Mrs. Edholm, were second only to furs, with black and white most common. There were many ankle strapped slippers, as well as the popular mule type.

As for coiffeurs, there were very few so-called "Italian" or" French" cuts in evidence — hairdressers seemingly were copying the American way of simply arranging waves or brushing down from the crown in soft curls. There were also many "demoiselles," says Mrs. Edholm, with page boy bobs and long hair.

In all, the preview crowd gloriously gowned and tuxedoed and harmonized with the red-coated gendarmes, presented a production of their own as spectacular as that they were going to view.
